

CONGRATULATIONS — Nancy Shelton, left, receives the congratulations of Superintendent Fritz Jacobs after it was announced that she received a fourth place award in the International Paper Company Foundation awards program for economics teaching. The awards program is administered in cooperation with the Joint Council on Economic Education of New York City. Ms. Shelton, along with other award recipients, will be honored at a program in Houston, Texas, on March 20, 1977.

Home Economics Teacher Is 4th In National Contest

Nancy Shelton, home economics teacher at Circleville High School, has received a fourth place award in the 14th annual International Paper Company Foundation awards program for the teaching of economics.

Miss Shelton also received $100 and a plaque in recognition of her award. This awards program is administered nationwide in cooperation with the Joint Council on Economic Education of New York City.

The purposes of the awards program are to stimulate improvements in economic education teaching, encourage teachers to develop descriptions of economic education teaching practices, recognize outstanding economic education teaching, and foster a continuing exchange of reports of successful teaching experiences in economic education.

Miss Shelton's curriculum project,

"The Food Dollar", incorporated the teaching of economic principles into the teaching of consumer food buying and nutrition. This curriculum project has been submitted to the editor of Economic Education Experiences of Enterprising Teachers and also to the National Depository of Economic Education Awards Program Materials at the Ohio University Center for Economic Education. Teachers throughout the nation will be able to borrow these materials through the inter-library system.

A luncheon program honoring the award winners from throughout the nation is being planned for March 20, 1977, in conjunction with this year's meeting of the Association for Supervision and Curriculum Development in Houston, Texas. The award winners who attend the luncheon will be the guests of the International Paper Company Foundation.

Blacks Want Quick Rhodesian Takeover

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Black Rhodesian leaders called today for elections that would effectively freeze whites out of a two-year interim government designed to pave the way to black rule.

White Rhodesian sources said Prime Minister Ian Smith reiterated his position that the conference's sole purpose was to ratify a plan under which whites would lead the interim government's ruling council and head the police and army ministries.

The plan was presented to Smith and black leaders last month by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger. But Kissinger and Britain say the plan was a basis for discussion, not an agreement to which the blacks were committed.

Today's session recessed after 80 minutes for what its British chairman called "a period of informal consultations."

The four black Rhodesian leaders at the conference say they want power transferred immediately to the 6.4 million blacks in Zimbabwe, the African name for the British colony whose 278,000 whites declared independence from Britain 11 years ago.

"We have come here to do one thing, and that one thing is to work out the mechanics for the transfer of power from the colonial administrator (Britain) to the people of Zimbabwe," said Joshua Nkomo.

The other black leaders are Robert Mugabe, head of the guerrilla forces fighting from bases in Mozambique, and two Methodist clergymen, Bishop Abel Muzorewa and the Rev. Ndabaningi Sithole.

Nkomo and Mugabe have formed a "Patriotic Front" alliance for the talks and rebuffed overtures for unity from Muzorewa and Sithole.

The opening conference session Thursday was delayed for more than two hours while the British chairman, Ivor Richard, Britain's ambassador to the United Nations, got his government to agree to a demand by Nkomo and Mugabe that Richard be given cabinet rank.

Nkomo told reporters his side had "gone a long way toward ... getting the British to accept their responsibility" as the legal sovereign authority in Rhodesia. But the British government in the past 11 years has demonstrated that it has neither the military forces nor the inclination to whip the Rhodesian whites into line.

Richard told the opening session the conference aims for majority rule in Rhodesia within two years, and he said all have a duty to work for that goal.

He read a message from Prime Minister James Callaghan which said, "The British objective for Rhodesia is an independence which will serve the interest and fulfill the aspirations of all the peoples of Zimbabwe."

School Case Decision To Stand

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — A state Supreme Court ruling that permits nonpublic schools to operate without meeting minimum state educational requirements will be left alone by the Darke County prosecutor.

Prosecutor Lee F. Fry announced Thursday that he had decided against appealing last July's unanimous ruling because of excessive legal costs and lack of state assistance.

"I estimate it (an appeal) would cost in excess of $10,000," Fry said. The court overturned the convictions of 12 parents who refused to take their children out of the Tabernacle Christian School between the towns of Bradford and Covington in southwestern Ohio.

Religious freedom under the U.S. and Ohio constitutions takes precedence over standards set by the state Board of Education, the court said.

The Rev. Levi Whisner, the school's founder, commented Thursday, "We're rejoicing and glad we don't have to pay any more litigation fees."

In its ruling, the Supreme Court said religious rights are compromised when state standards "are so comprehensive in scope as to eradicate the distinction between public and non-public education."

Dr. Martin Essex, superintendent of public instruction, said the ruling apparently means the state Board of Education must prepare separate standards for religious schools.

China To Get Computers

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. officials say the Ford administration will allow the sale of two "relatively advanced" computer systems to China as a symbol of support for the new government consolidating its power in Peking.

The Chinese say the first of the $2-million Control Data Corp. computers will be used to aid in oil exploration. The second, to be delivered later, is to assist in the detection of earthquakes which regularly plague the country, the Chinese said.

A knowledgeable U.S. official said "conceivably it has defense uses." However, informed sources said Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger overcame skepticism within the Pentagon and among some intelligence specialists with the argument that the sale has international political value.

In his third debate with Democratic presidential candidate Jimmy Carter last Friday, Ford was asked whether he would sell military equipment to China.

"I do not believe that we, the United States, should sell, give or otherwise transfer military hardware to the People's Republic of China, or any other Communist nation, such as the Soviet Union and the like," he responded.

With Hua Kuo-feng, the new premier, succeeding the late Chairman Mao Tse-tung and gaining the upper hand over so-called "radical elements," the State Department was said to be eager to demonstrate friendship for the new regime.

The deal still must be approved by "COCOM," an association of NATO allies and Japan, that monitors the supply of sensitive equipment to the Soviet Union and other Communist countries.

Some research analysts at the Pentagon and others in some intelligence areas were said to have had reservations about the potential use of the computers in radar operations. As a general rule the Pentagon especially is reluctant to see foreign sales of electronic systems such as computers, semiconductors and microcircuitry, which this country leads in.

Sale of the Cyber 172 system is to be arranged through a French subsidiary of Control Data, with the Chinese restricting the number of Americans permitted to oversee the installation.

A group of Chinese computer experts on a recent visit to the United States had expressed interest in buying the computer, which one U.S. official described as "relatively advanced."

On the Chinese side, the deal demonstrates Peking's interest in importing western technology. Unlike radical Chinese elements, the moderates now in power are known for their practical interest in commercial ties with the West, an inclination the Ford administration wants to encourage.

Economic Downturn Confirmed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government index designed to predict future economic growth declined for the second month in a row in September, the Commerce Department said today, bringing more bad pre-election news for the Ford administration.

The decline in the index of leading economic indicators was seventieths of a per cent in September, the same as in August. It indicates that the economic slowdown may continue.

Economists say they are not certain that the index points to an economic decline until it has gone down for three months in a row.

But the latest report seems certain to raise new questions about the strength of the economic recovery, since other recent statistics on economic growth and unemployment have also been disappointing.

However, one Commerce Department analyst said it wasn't clear from the index whether the decline reflected the slowdown in economic growth that has already occurred, or whether it pointed to a further slowdown in the months ahead.

Top administration economic spokesmen, already under pressure because of the recent unfavorable statistics on unemployment and economic growth, acknowledged in advance that the indicators index probably would be down again.

But they continued to maintain that the slowdown in the economy was about over and that the economic recovery remains basically sound.

The indicators index, compiled by the Commerce Department from other statistics, is designed to foreshadow future trends in the economy.

Commerce Department economists say the figures aren't conclusive unless they show a similar result of three consecutive months. But one analyst said the September report was certain to raise new questions about the strength of the recovery.

Jimmy Carter's top economic adviser, Lawrence R. Klein, said Thursday that the recovery "definitely is in trouble" and that the next president will need to take new actions to stimulate the economy next year to head off a new recession.

"This economy is due to have some kind of a slowdown by 1978 or 1979 and nobody is doing anything about it, except for the kinds of policies Gov. Carter favors," he said.

Alan Greenspan, President Ford's top economic adviser, said Wednesday that the economic recovery is not running out of steam and predicted that a year from now "we'll wonder what all the fuss was about."

Economic policy is on the right track, he added.

However, Klein told the National Press Club Thursday that when historians look back on this period they will "decide that the economic policies look very poor."

He said that "remedial action" will be needed next year and this could take the form of tax cuts, or increased spending. He also said that in order to plan for the future, the administration needs to solve the "mystery" of the missing $11.4 billion in budget money that was unspent in the first nine months of this year.

Ehrlichman Starts Term In Prison

SAFFORD, Ariz. (AP) — John D. Ehrlichman, highest ranking member of the Nixon administration to go to jail, will be treated "no better or no worse than anyone else" at the Swift Trail Federal Prison Camp here, officials say.

The 51-year-old former No. 2 adviser to Richard Nixon spent his first night in a barracks-like dormitory at this minimum-security desert prison. There are no bars or fences here, and prisoners are called by their names instead of wearing numbers.

One of Ehrlichman's daughters drove him to the camp at the base of 10,000-foot Mt. Graham on Thursday, after he received judicial permission to begin serving sentences for two Watergate convictions.

He had decided not to wait for a review of his case by the U.S. Supreme Court, which he hopes will reverse the convictions. Unless he wins a reversal, or his sentence is reduced at the discretion of his trial judge, Ehrlichman must serve 2½ years before parole.

The balding Ehrlichman, who had grown a thick beard in the months after the Watergate coverup trial, arrived at the prison clean shaven. Federal prison rules prohibit beards.

Camp administrator John Haddin said Ehrlichman would be placed in the general work pool for two weeks, and then given an assignment that suits his qualifications. Prison factories make trousers and leather gloves, with glove sales reaching $970,000 last year.

Haddin said glove-making is a "pretty popular assignment here because men can earn money at the job. The 100 men who make the gloves sit at sewing machines to do their work."

The prison has a few private rooms, but most inmates live in dormitories with 55 to 60 beds, Haddin said.

Pickaway Bar Seeks Improved Court Facilities

The Pickaway County Bar Association has requested Circleville City Council to provide suitable facilities for Circleville Municipal Court.

The Bar adopted a resolution on Tuesday urging the city to begin a study to determine the availability of new facilities for the court.

According to the local bar association, the facilities presently in use by the Circleville Municipal Court fail to comply with standard requirements defined by the Ohio Supreme Court.

DISTRICT PORK QUEEN — Nancy Mace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mace, 28085 Chillicothe Pike, Williamsport, was selected Thursday to represent District 7 in the state pork queen contest in February. The District 7 queen's court are, from the left: Marilyn Seifried, first attendant; Miss Mace; Connie Drummond, past district queen and second attendant to the state queen; Emily Hempleman, second runnerup. The queen contest was held during the District 7 Pork Council meeting held at Shawnee Vineyard. Judges were Dick Isler, state executive director; Betty Worley, president of the Ohio Porkettes; Deanne Cunningham, Mt. Sterling. David Evans, 9683 Zane Trail Road, was re-elected district 7 director. George Hamrick, Pickaway County Agricultural agent, was master of ceremonies of the program.

Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market crept lower today after a report of the second monthly drop in the government's economic forecasting index.

The opening Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks was down more than a point, and declining issues led those advancing on the New York Stock Exchange.

At the start of the session, the government reported in Washington that its index of leading economic indicators declined .7 per cent in September, equal to the revised drop in August. The index is designed to foretell economic trends.

Also at the opening, Citibank said it is reducing its prime lending rate to 6½ per cent following a similar reduction by Chicago's Continental Illinois National Bank on Thursday.

Early prices today included Chrysler, down ¼ at 19½; Sears, Roebuck, off ¾ at 65½; and Northrop, down ¾ to 43½.

On Thursday, the Dow Jones industrial average slipped 3.49 to 952.63.

Declining New York Stock Exchange issues edged those advancing.

Volume on the Big Board picked up to 16.92 million shares from the 15.79 million traded the day before.

At the American Stock Exchange, the market value index fell .21 to 98.29.

GI Benefit Bill Boosts Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 1.2 million veterans attending school under the GI Bill will begin getting higher benefit checks, starting Monday, and the first check will have an extra bonus.

A new law boosts veterans' education benefits 8 per cent, effective Oct. 1. The new benefit checks due in the mail Monday also will include the higher benefits that were retroactive to Oct. 1.

The law also increased from 36 months to 45 months the eligibility time period for undergraduate study; previously the extra nine months could be used only for graduate study.

Since men and women who join the military after Jan. 31 are not eligible for that program, the VA and the Pentagon are preparing a new program for them. Under the new law, men and women joining the military after Dec. 31 may contribute $50 to $75 monthly from their salaries, up to a maximum of $2,700. The VA will match that at the rate of $2 for every $1 contributed, and the total can be used for education.

VA Administrator Richard L. Roudebush said that for a single veteran attending school full time, the new monthly allowance is $292, up $22 from the previous rate. The new monthly rate for veterans enrolled in full-time training with one dependent is $347, compared with $321; with two dependents $396, compared with $366. For each dependent above two, the rate is $24, up by $2.

The 8 per cent increase applies to all GI Bill training, except flight training, which remains the same.

The new law is estimated to cost $473 million in this fiscal year, decreasing to $68 million in fiscal year 1981.

Roudebush said that because of the priority placed on getting out the GI Bill increases, some 16,000 checks that veterans enrolled in vocational rehabilitation training receive Monday will include only the 8 per cent for November. The October increase will be sent later.

There is no change in the requirement that a veteran use his GI Bill benefits within 10 years after leaving military service or by Dec. 31, 1989, whichever is earlier. The new bill expires in 1989.

The law permits those who enlist before Dec. 31 to come under the old program even though they don't actually begin serving until next year.

The program for future GIs will be administered jointly by the VA and the Defense Department, with up to 36 months of assistance offered.

Under the law, the VA next June 1 will stop making advance payments at the start of the month for those in school under the GI Bill. Payment will be made at the end of the month instead. And advance payment at the start of the training will be permitted only if the veteran requests and his school agrees to follow the law in reporting.

That provision was written into the law in light of the millions of dollars paid out to veterans under the advancement payments plans that was lost because the VA was not informed by the veteran or his school that he had dropped courses or quit school.

Claim Tax Board Discrimination

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Board of Tax Appeals has discriminated against taxpayers in 28 counties in the collection of property taxes, two men argue in a class action filed Thursday in Franklin County Common Pleas Court.

Ted L. Brown of Dayton and Thomas H. Hirsch of Dover contend that $124.1 million in taxes are frozen because Ohio property tax law no longer requires an annual updating.

Brown alleges that $20.2 million in discriminatory taxes have been charged in Montgomery County and Hirsch maintains the state charged $1 million in discriminatory taxes in Tuscarawas County.

Other counties affected are Holmes, Coshocton, Ashland, Ashtabula, Athens, Butler, Clermont, Fulton, Greene, Knox, Madison, Noble, Summit, Wayne, Allen, Guernsey, Sandusky, Vinton, Adams, Columbiana, Hancock, Hocking, Lawrence, Meigs, Monroe and Scioto.

Anchor Hocking Revamps Group

LANCASTER, Ohio (AP) — Anchor Hocking has reorganized its consumer and industrial group to include a separate industrial division, officials announced.

Establishment of the division will enable the glassmaker to expand its business by concentrating management attention on it, said group Vice President J. Ray Topper.

Anchor Hocking is a major producer of industrial glassware, supplying electric meter covers, microwave oven trays, electric blender jars and other kitchen products.

Richard P. Ellwood has been named vice president and general manager of the new division.

Sunday Marks Halloween In Williamsport

Sunday will be a busy day for the citizens of Williamsport, and it all has to do with Halloween.

From 2 until 4 p.m., children will be canvassing the village for contributions to the annual UNICEF fund.

From 5 until 6 p.m. local children age 12 and under will observe the traditional "trick or treat." All homes who will have a treat for the beggars are requested to have an outside light burning, such as a porch or a yard light. If a house does not have an outside light burning, the beggars are asked to respect this and not bother the occupants with requests for treats.

All residents of the community are invited to enjoy the annual American Legion Post 618 Halloween Party beginning at 7 p.m. in the Pavilion. Prizes for first, second, and third will be awarded to the prettiest, ugliest, and most original. Following the selection of winners, refreshments in keeping with the season will be served.

Anyone not wishing to participate in the Beggars hour, but wishing to donate towards the Legion party are encouraged to do so. Contributions should be given to any member of the Halloween committee: Eileen Easterday, Denise Oesterle, Francis Fry, Billy Carter, Bill Oesterle, Junior Keller, or Lon Rigsby.

Find Whiskey Bottle On Sunken Ferry

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A nearly empty half-pint whisky bottle was found in the wheelhouse of a commuter ferry that capsized after steering into the path of an onrushing tanker, a Coast Guard officer has testified.

Cmdr. Peter Lauridsen told a Coast Guard board of inquiry Thursday that investigators who entered the George Prince wheelhouse after the ferry was raised found a half-pint whisky bottle with the cap on and an inch of liquid inside.

Orleans Parish Coroner Dr. Frank Minyard said on Wednesday that the ferry's skipper was "almost legally drunk" when he drowned after the collision. Minyard was to testify before the inquiry board today.

The bodies of Capt. Egidio Auletta and 73 other persons have been pulled from the Mississippi River since the accident Oct. 20. Eighteen persons survived; four are still missing.

Minyard told a news conference Wednesday that an autopsy found a .09 per cent concentration of alcohol in Auletta's blood, or .01 per cent short of legal drunkenness in this state.

He said the captain's performance would have been impaired by a combination of the alcohol and fatigue from working a full shift.

But the inquiry has been unable to determine with certainty whether Auletta was at the wheel when the George Prince was rammed by the Norwegian tanker Frosta.

Early reports said divers found Auletta's body either in the engine room or the passenger compartment. But Thursday, diver Fred Hurt testified that one of two bodies he brought up from the pilothouse was that of a man weighing 200 pounds — Auletta's weight, according to the autopsy report. Hurt said he could not identify the men whose bodies he recovered.

Lauridsen said the whisky bottle's contents would be analyzed by the FBI and the bottle checked for fingerprints. He said the report should be ready by next week.

Northwest Ohio Accidents Eye

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — State highway safety officials will begin visiting schools in northwest Ohio next month to fight rising multiple fatality accidents involving teenagers.

"We've had too many serious accidents in the area, and I want a safety assembly and an ongoing highway safety program in each high school in the area," said Highway Safety Director Donald D. Cook.

The safety blitz, which begins Nov. 3, was spurred by the deaths of five teenagers in a crash in rural Putnam County and three teenagers in Hancock County two days later.

Hunter-Carney Race Could Be Close

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Republican Youngstown Mayor Jack C. Hunter is challenging not only Democratic incumbent Rep. Charles J. Carney in Tuesday's election, but also the Mahoning Valley's tradition of voting Democratic.

The two have squared off in what may be an unusually tight race for the 19th District congressional seat.

Hunter, however, is an anomaly in this industrial and union city of 139,000. He is serving his fourth term as mayor the largest city in the 19th District—a feat never accomplished before by a mayor of either party.

That Hunter is not to be taken lightly is shown by Carney's repeated pleas for financial support this year to conduct his campaign.

Carney, 63, has the traditional assets of a Democratic office holder in the district. He is a former staff worker for the United Steel Workers and the United Rubber Workers. He served in the Ohio Senate for 20 years.

Carney won the congressional seat in 1970 after beating 12 rivals in the Democratic primary. In 1972, he was re-elected with a 56 per cent majority, and two years ago he coasted in with 78 per cent of the vote.

The Youngstown native's near-perfect labor voting record has won him a $3,000 political contribution from the political arm of the AFL-CIO.

Democratic party ties in Youngstown, however, have been shattered by its 46-year-old mayor. Hunter used to be a councilman and a bank executive. He was first elected mayor in 1969 as a reform candidate who promised to clean up the city administration's alleged dealings with special interests and organized crime.

Upon his initial election, Hunter has said, he rebuffed attempts by racketeers to woo him with favors and money in return for tolerating vice.

Organized crime figures may mar the district's reputation, but the most serious problem is its industrial base.

In the 1930s, steelworkers were fighting for labor recognition from steel companies. Now, both labor and management are fighting state and federal environmental agencies.

The steel companies say that environmental regulations will make operations so unprofitable that it will lead to plant closings and loss of thousands of jobs.

Both Carney and Hunter say they don't want the environmental agencies to do anything that would endanger jobs.

Meanwhile, one of Hunter's main campaign themes has been to charge that Carney has not done enough for the district.

Canal Negotiations Halted By Judge

ANCON, C.Z. (AP) — U.S. District Court Judge Guthrie F. Crowe has ordered President Ford and Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger to suspend the negotiations with Panama for a new Panama Canal treaty.

Crowe issued a temporary restraining order Wednesday in response to a petition filed by William R. Drummond, chairman of the Canal Zone Central Labor Union (AFL-CIO). The judge said he would take the case under advisement.

The petition charged that the negotiations threaten to infringe, without due process of law, on the property or liberty of some 40,000 Americans living in the Canal Zone or otherwise involved in the operation of the canal.

Find Minority Enrollment On Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Minority enrollment in the nation's colleges and universities rose 11.7 per cent between 1972 and 1974, with major strides in private colleges and universities, the U.S. Office for Civil Rights announced today.

The government survey showed that white enrollment in public institutions actually decreased during the two years, from 3,986,450 to 3,964,292. White enrollment in private schools rose modestly from 1,405,862 to 1,448,368.

Minority students represented 11.9 per cent of the total higher education enrollment in 1972 and 13.1 per cent in 1974.

During the two-year period, black enrollments in private schools increased by 27.9 per cent, Spanish-surnamed by 105.4 per cent, Asian-Americans by 33.7 per cent and American Indians by 6.4 per cent, the agency said.

Total minority enrollment in 1974 as 587,835 in public institutions and 227,301 in private institutions.

Across the board, American Indian enrollments were up 2.3 per cent from 33,919 to 34,692; blacks up 19.2 per cent from 489,496 to 539,500; Asian-Americans up 8.7 per cent from 67,662 to 73,527; and Spanish-surnamed up 20.8 per cent from 138,631 to 167,417.

The one exception to the trend was in graduate schools, where enrollments of American Indians and Asian Americans declined over-all.

In private professional schools, American Indian enrollment rose the fastest although the actual numbers of those students remained small. There were 538 Indian students in private professional schools in 1974, up 24.2 per cent from the 433 in 1972.

The number of blacks in private professional schools increased 7.5 per cent, from 8,684 to 9,334; Asian-Americans up 4.6 per cent from 2,457 to 2,569; and Spanish-surnamed up 13.8 per cent from 2,625 to 2,998.

Total minority enrollment in law schools rose 111 per cent, to 11,103 in 1974. Total minorities in medical schools increased 50 per cent, to 6,119.

Bob Hope Takes Backward Look At Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bob Hope starts his 27th year on television Friday night with a backward look. It's also nostalgia time Sunday night when "Life Goes to the Movies."

"We're going to look at the highlights of my shows from the past 26 years," said Hope. "Actually, it goes back much further than that because producer Jack Haley Jr. found a monologue I did for a Los Angeles station in 1947.

"That was in the days when we didn't think there was much future for television. Now I think there's a little bit of a future."

The two-hour "Bob Hope World of Comedy" will be seen on NBC at 8 p.m. EDT Friday.

With the presidential election only a few days off, Hope will review his political needling over the years.

"Political humor really hasn't changed much," said Hope. "Just the people. I started back with Truman and his piano playing. Ike and golf, Kennedy and his rocking chair, Johnson and his barbecues and fast driving. Ford brings in football and skiing. Carter brings in Peanuts and the Playboy interview."

Another major weekend show will be the three-hour "Life Goes to the Movies" on NBC at 8 p.m. EST Sunday (That's Eastern Standard Time not Daylight — the clocks go back an hour at 2 a.m. this Sunday). The show was also produced by Haley, the man behind "That's Entertainment!"

The special covers the stars, films and legends from 1936 to 1972 — the years of Life magazine — that show how the movies reflected American life and times. Hosts are Henry Fonda, Shirley MacLaine and Liza Minnelli.

It includes memorable movie moments, the post-Depression optimism, Hollywood's war effort, escapist movies, the private eyes, the cold war films and the rise of a new generation of stars in the '50s. A 20-minute sequence focuses on Marilyn Monroe.

ABC takes a last-minute look at the presidential election at 11:30 p.m. Friday with "Political Spriti of '76—Battle for the White House." On Sunday at 11:30 a.m., ABC will present a program for children called "How to Follow the Election." A nationwide poll of school children predicting the presidential winner will be revealed.

MOVIES: The ABC Friday Night Movie, "Look What's Happened to Rosemary's Baby." Stephen McHattie is the grown-up baby torn between good and evil. Four Oscar winners also star: Ruth Gordon, Ray Milland, Patty Duke Astin and Broderick Crawford. The CBS Friday Night Movie, "Badlands," stars Martin Sheen and Sissy Spacek in a tale of teenage romance and thrill killing. In "McQ," NBC's Saturday Night at the Movies, detective John Wayne avenges the killing of a fellow officer. ABC's Sunday Night Movie is "Live and Let Die." Roger Moore and James Bond pursue Mr. Big.

Letters To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: While The Herald encourages open comments from its readers, the opinions expressed are not necessarily those of the management. Letters to the editor must be signed and should be of 300 words or less.

Dear Editor:
Before the Hospital Board members requested the Bond Issue to construct an addition to the present Berger Hospital, a paid study to determine the need of such addition was conducted and reported.

Partial findings of this paid survey were published in the Herald and were included in an account of one of the Hospital Board meetings last spring. The survey revealed that in order for this project to be a feasible one, that nine (9) new doctors would have to be attracted to and establish practice in Circleville. The report further stated that at least fifty per cent (50) of the people who now go out of town for medical care would have to be reduced by one half of the number. Who is to decide who will go out of town for Medical or surgical care?

Population wise this area does not need or warrant this additional number of doctors.

It is a well known and established fact that there is a surplus of hospital beds today due to the Hill-Burton Building program (A Federal program-from taxpayer's money). Currently Riverside Hospital and Mt. Carmel East in Columbus are operating at full capacity, while Grant Hospital is operating at eighty (80) per cent of capacity. Pickaway County is within a 30 mile radius of the Metropolitan area of Columbus. Good highways for transporting patients are readily accessible.

The fact that two new doctors have come to Circleville recently should help alleviate the medical situation. The psychology of knowing the hospital should be kept filled is indeed a frightening condition. In this age of Medicaid, Medicare and prepaid health insurance there is reason to be concerned if there will be more unnecessary procedures or treatments performed? The unnecessary procedures are now a major concern to the American Medical Association and their investigating committee. Today, on the national level a very real crisis exists in the Medical care field.

Is there an accurate justification for this proposed addition? In this age of specialization care for more rapid diagnosis and recovery it would seem that every effort should be made to secure the best possible care available where it has been established. It would seem that the taxpayers should be completely informed regarding the total cost and what it will mean to them as individual taxpayers. Should this addition be made when specialized care is within an hour's time to a well equipped and staffed hospital in Columbus?

The cost of the space and the equipment for one hospital bed today is an astounding amount. Could this addition be justified if the percentage of capacity for 1976 is made public?

I am in favor of civic progress — but, I am not in favor of duplication of hospital facilities. Let's have the whole story regarding this Bond issue. The taxpayers are now shouldering a staggering tax load.

Sincerely yours,
MRS. J. L. GEORGE
589 N. Court St.

Dear Editor:
Win or lose on Issue 10 to build a better Berger Hospital for residents of Pickaway County, there are many to whom I would like to publicly extend our sincere thanks.

I have had the pleasure of serving in community hospitals over the past twenty years and can say that I have never found a more cooperative group of residents to work with.

Elected officials of the city, towns, and the county have displayed an attitude of cooperation which is not apparent in many other areas.

Business, industries, Chamber of Commerce, appointed officials, ladies of the Hospital Guilds, the Hospital Citizens Committee, Citizens for a Better Berger Hospital, the Circleville Herald Staff and management, the Employees of Berger Hospital, EMT's of Townships and city, WNRE Staff and management, and many many more groups and individuals who's names space will not permit to be listed must receive an expression of appreciation for their efforts to provide services to the citizens which will be second to none. Costly? Yes, perhaps, but can you imagine the costs to each of us if every service we enjoy in Pickaway County could be obtained only by going to another county?

This same consideration must be given to health care. If we are to at least maintain the present level of health care in Pickaway County the bed patient area of your Berger Hospital must be replaced by a building which can meet present regulations and safety codes. We must have a building which will cause doctors, nurses, and other professionals to come to our community.

We can not depend upon other counties to provide for the health care needs of our citizens any more than we can depend upon others to provide for the education of our children, our police and fire protection, our food markets, banks, or any other service or need which we may have.

Again, our thanks to those dedicated supporters of health care in Pickaway County.

CHARLES D. RIDEOUT Administrator
Berger Hospital

Dear Editor:
I would like to express my opinion in support of Issue 10. I firmly believe we need to help our local medical personnel give us the kind of hospital and services through the hospital we have come to expect and need here in Pickaway County.

My family moved into the area from out-of-state in March of 1975. We have six children. One of the younger girls met with an accident in July, 1975. We had not had need of a family doctor prior to that time. We are retired military personnel and had used the facilities at Rickenbacker Air Force Base. They (the facilities) were no longer available for emergency "after hour" care.

We transported our child to Berger Hospital Emergency Room. The personnel there were very efficient, courteous and spontaneous. They called a doctor (to whom I cannot give enough praise), made all necessary arrangements, and at no time did they try to minimize my anxieties - only to relieve them.

Not only was our daughter treated in the best possible manner, but as her mother, I was also treated with the utmost concern.

Since that time I have been a patient and received the same competent and efficient care. We have used the facilities of the x-ray, laboratory, and maternity departments as well. All units have left me with a feeling of total confidence in their competence.

The need to "up-date" the facilities of Berger Hospital is NOW! Let us show our appreciation and confidence for the fine job the personnel are doing and at the same time help ourselves try passing Issue 10!

Sincerely,
MRS. DON JAMES

Dear Editor:
I wonder how many people in Pickaway County still think of Berger Hospital as an institution only good for having babies in, caring for the elderly, and patching up accident victims enough to transfer them to Columbus. Until two years ago, that is exactly how I saw the situation. However, over the past two years I was on the nursing staff there and my mind was definitely enlightened.

Granted babies still make their way into the world there, the elderly are still nursed back to health, but gone are the days when every accident or emergency ill patient is transferred.

With the opening of the new Ancillary wing last January came a more conveniently complete facility to serve area residents. More complex surgical procedures are performed and greater diagnostic lab and x-ray studies are now common place.

I think the greatest impression made on my life was the family atmosphere at the hospital. Don't get me wrong. The employees are top notch professionals, but they are human and they care about each and every patient as a person. Many times I've heard patients say that they received excellent care that they never experienced at larger hospitals.

You're probably thinking, "If it's so great, what's the problem?" There are rooms too small to move in and some doorways are too narrow to allow passage of a bed through them. Only a few of the rooms have toilets and sinks. When a patient needs oxygen, huge tanks have to sit in the rooms instead of the oxygen being piped in through wall units at each patient bed.

The hospital is kept immaculate, but it is still old, dark and dull. (You can only "paint up" and "fix up" so many times.) There is no chapel for patients and their families. Many times patients have to be in the hall until a room is available. Storage space is minimal and I could go on, but I think you can get the picture.

Our community is growing and so grows the need for a larger more updated health facility. Let's get together on Issue No. 10. Please vote YES for a new Berger Hospital next Tuesday.

Sincerely,
SANDY WISECUP
Williamsport

Dear Editor:
Half a score and nine years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this area a new school district, dedicated to the education of our children.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that school district or any school district can long endure. In the face of inflation, overpopulation, and over-taxation, many people no longer seem to accept the responsibility of educating our children. Many voice excuses on why they will vote no on the coming bond issue. I would like to voice some reasons on why I will vote yes.

1. The bond issue will raise money that is to be used solely for the building of added facilities necessary to the Teays Valley School District. No one takes a "chunk" out of it to send to other places. A Jr. High school will be built near the present high school site, and each elementary school will have several rooms and facilities added. This is not an operating levy. It does not give teachers and administrators more income.

2. If we do not build these facilities now, they will cost much more later. The need for the added room will not decrease since we are directly below the Columbus area. We are a desirable community within a commutable distance.

3. The schools are over crowded. We have an entire school of seventh and eighth grade children without a school building. We have some elementary classrooms with as many as 40 children. In the "old" days, it was thought disastrous to have 36 in a room.

4. Personal grievances based on rumors or misconceptions hurt our children more than the intended superintendents, teachers or board members. Our children have to sit in the rooms with wall-to-wall desks. Thirty-nine in a room made for twenty-five is not giving our children a good education. The only elementary school rooms left to be remodeled and used as classrooms are the "good ole locker rooms". Just where we put the children, when space finally runs out.

Woman Becomes Park Manager

FINDLAY, Ohio (AP) — Nadra Masten, a 31-year-old wife of a Findlay policeman, is Ohio's first woman park manager.

Mrs. Masten was appointed manager at Van Buren State Park in Hancock County Sept. 26.

"I feel that her experience in park management and her ability to relate to the public qualify Nadra Masten for the park manager's position," said Ralph Vanzant, chief of the Department of Natural Resources parks and recreation division.

She was a ranger at Van Buren before assuming her new duties.

Her immediate plans include developing a recently acquired 80-acre site and removing tree stumps from the park lake to reduce boating hazards.

"I'll get some refreshments. Incidentally, the room is bugged."

by Lester L. Coleman, M.D.

It is very discouraging to realize that thousands of people in American fall prey to quackeries even though they are constantly warned against them.

Public Health officials, the Federal Drug Administration and personal physicians have embarked on campaigns to protect the public.

This is a simple rule of safety. Whenever you are tempted to spend your hard-earned money for miracle drugs, miracle treatments, miracle gadgets and equipment for that ultimate "miracle cure," think twice and get sound advice from your doctor or from the medical society in your community.

Another rule of safety must be to remember that whenever a "miracle cure" is known to one person or one group only, BEWARE. When a new or brilliant form of treatment or cure has been discovered by responsible men or women of science this knowledge is distributed without delay to doctors and hospitals all over the world.

In the field of medicine, there is no selfish guarding of any discovery or cure. So be very suspicious of privately owned and privately manufactured drugs for the cure of cancer, for the cure of leukemia, for the prevention of aging, for the cure of all forms of arthritis, for the cure of arteriosclerosis and many other conditions that are still unsolved medical problems.

Centers for cellular therapy are being established in the Caribbean and in Mexico. Hundreds of naive hopefuls flock to these centers to "delay" their aging processes.

You can be certain that these, and other privately owned miracle drugs or establishments, are no secret to the medical profession. If there were any validity to their claims physicians and scientists would be eager to acknowledge faith in them.

The greatest threat of these false claims is that patients tend to delay obtaining recognized treatment for conditions whose cure depends on early scientifically sound forms of treatment.

Way Of Life

By JIM BISHOP

The automobile is the single most important item in the American family. It takes you there; it gets you back. When I was a moppy-haired child, I could stand on a busy corner and detect the Chalmers from the Chandler, and the Moon from both of them. Today I cannot tell the difference between a Granada and a Cadillac.

My first car was a Graham-Paige, with a silver grille that looked like shark's teeth. It cost $300, third-hand. I was 22. So, I surmise, was the car. When I turned the engine over, it emitted a loud varoom-varoom which darkened the neighborhood.

My old man bought a Hupmobile with a rumble seat. He ran it 160,000 miles. He babied that thing more than he did a mother. I was permitted to ride in the rumble seat only in the dead of winter.

Who knows how many cars have gone to the junkyard since: Virginia Lee, who now has her own freewheeling family, was practically born in an old Ford in Virginia. It too had labor pains on the way to the hospital. The doctor sent a bill for $75, which was much too much for 28 minutes work. He had a seven-passenger limousine.

The automobile I remembered best was a Packard-110. It was baby blue. I kept it for over 10 years, even though the right rear fender had been bent out of shape by a hit-run driver. The injustice of it made me so angry, I never had it repaired.

I went to Damariscotta, Maine, one time to write a magazine article about the last of the Down East sages. He edited a witty weekly newspaper. I marvel at the fact that he paid $900 for his house and $1,400 for the car out front.

A Broadway columnist bought a gangster's car. It had bullet-proof fenders and two-inch windows. It weighed eight tons and got three miles to the gallon of gas.

The columnist's father died and he sent a chauffeur to call on Rabbi Stephen Wise. The rabbi, who was also a statesman, said, "I have never seen so many people turn to look at me as when I drove uptown in your car." Of course. No one could understand what Wise was doing in the back seat of Owney Madden's automobile.

In 1972, I bought Kelly a new red Lincoln. She argued against it. She didn't want a luxury car. It was a waste of money, she said. After one week of gliding over the roads, she refused to allow me to ride in it. The Lincoln became her baby.

Times change. So do cars. We have the automobiles, the Arabs have the oil. One by one, this family began to change to lighter, smaller vehicles. It was not something we discussed, because all the girls have grown up — and God forbid! have wills of their own.

The Charles Frechettes (with eight children) have a Ford bus. It has everything but a coin counter. Charlie also buys ancient hacks and tries to refurbish them with his growing sons.

Gayle has a Pinto station wagon. She is the cheapest of the group and has been known to squeeze a nickel until the Indian jumps on the buffalo. If the Arabs start an oil embargo, Gayle will buy a bicycle.

Kathi has a green Mustang. It has lots of room in the back, but when she moved from Florida Atlantic University to Florida State in Tallahassee, she filled it with so much junk that Gayle had to follow with a loaded Pinto.

Mrs. Paul Sayrs has a 1970 Maverick. She teaches learning-disabled children in the Palm Beach schools. She also teaches herself not to run on empty. Her husband drives a defeated Triumph. It's a black cloth top dragging a sparky tailpipe.

For years, we have bought our cars from our buddy Gene Kroll. He retired, so we had to find a new smile. The last car I bought from Kroll Motors was a blue Maverick. This was mine, because my wife wouldn't allow me to soil her Lincoln.

John Buccino of Hollywood Ford examined the Lincoln and shrugged. It was, he felt, about to dollar my wife to death. Mr. Buccino has a smile that reminds me of a concert grand piano. Mrs. B. gave it some thought.

Then she traded it for a baby-blue Granada. It has the same number of wheels and cylinders as the Lincoln. She can pack her groceries in the trunk, if all she buys is a box of corn flakes.

She cried. I smiled. Where does it say in fine print that everybody in our family must have an automobile? ...

Rep. Seiberling Gets Top Rating

WAYNE, N.J. (AP) — Rep. John Seiberling, D-Ohio, was one of 14 congressmen to receive a perfect rating on 10 world order issues by a new political group that supports United Nations reform.

The Campaign for U.N. Reform, based in Wayne, N.J., rated members of the 94th Congress on such issues as support for U.N. peacekeeping forces in the Mideast, appropriations for the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency and opposition to the resumption of arms shipments to Turkey.

Among Ohio congressmen, Republicans Sam Devine, John M. Ashbrook and Thomas N. Kindness tied for the lowest rating at 10 per cent. Former Democratic Rep. Wayne L. Hays received a 40 per cent rating.

Church Of God Women Meet In Summers Home

Mrs. Judy Summers, Jackson Road, Circleville hosted the recent meeting of Women of the Laurelville Church of God for their meeting at her home.

Prayer was by Judy Clifton and for devotions Margie Ebert led in singing "Trying To Walk In The Steps Of The Savior." She read about the three "R's" in a Christian's life, read, rejoice and reward. "A Collection Of Thoughts For Today And Everyday" by Helen Steiner Rice was read by Josephine Hardman.

The Big Bear Luncheon with Jerry Rasor as emcee, to be held Nov. 9 at the church, was discussed. Tickets may be purchased from any member.

Dec. 2 was set as the date for the annual Christmas Bazaar at the church beginning at 1:30 p.m.

Prayer requests were given and Alma Radabaugh led members in answering them.

Refreshments of cookies, tea and coffee, were served by Linda Bell and Elaine Poling and Judy Summers, Marilyn Stump, Thelma Johnson, Margie Ebert, Shirley Moreno, Lyndall Brown, Josephine Hardman, Judy Clifton, Alma Radabaugh, Pat Welliver and Ruth Reid.

Library Friends Meeting Planned

Friends of the Library Annual meeting will be called to order at 2 p.m., Monday, in the meeting room of the Pickaway County Historical Society, with the chairman, Mrs. O. C. West, presiding.

Committee reports will be presented and the nominating committee chairman, Miss Margaret Rooney, will announce the slate of officers for the coming year.

The program for the afternoon will be introduced by Mrs. Kermit Dountz, vice chairman of the Friends. Kay Sahr, children's librarian at the public library, will be the speaker.

Sorority Holds Preferential Tea

Attending a Preferential Tea in Chillicothe on Monday were members and guests of Xi Eta Epsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. This was an opportunity for prospective members to meet other sisters in Beta Sigma Phi.

The evening began with dinner at the Bob Evans Restaurant. Attending were Kathy Rhoades, Joanne Minor, Norma Sutton, LaDonna Kelchner, Phyllis Born, Becky Davis, members, and guests, Diane Bennett, Betty Kerns and Diane Seurkamp.

The next meeting will be 7:30 p.m., Nov. 2, at the home of Mrs. Charles Curlett, 21421 Wintergreen Hills. A special program has been planned by Joanne Minor and it requires full attendance.

Women Who Shape The Nations Program For Monday Club

Mrs. E. Miller Hundley, president of The Monday Club, greeted the members on Oct. 25, at the Clarke-May House, and conducted a short business meeting. She then introduced the program chairman, Mrs. Karl Drum, who, presented the two speakers for the evening, Mrs. James Sampson and Mrs. Frank Estes.

In developing the Monday Club theme of "Women 1976-1977" Mrs. Sampson noted that "The liberation of women is not a twentieth Century cause. In fact, it has been going on for centuries. In 3000 B.C. Hammurabi had written in his Code, "...for equal work with men, women shall receive the same pay." Mrs. Sampson presented the events and beliefs of four women, who have devoted much of their lives to helping women attain their present status.

Barbara Friedan, author of "Feminine Mystique" believes "there is a strange discrepancy between the image to which we are trying to conform and the reality of our lives as women." She calls this image "The Feminine Mystique." The book was highly recommended by Mrs. Sampson.

Francoise Giroud, a French journalist, who influenced Giscard D'Estang to create a new cabinet post and appoint her as State Secretary for La Condition Feminine. Her job was defined as "overseeing the integration of women into contemporary French society." This State Secretarial post is unprecedented in any other government in the world.

Indira Gandhi, who was chosen by the Power Syndicate of party leaders, on the theory that "If strong men want to rule they will do so through the weak woman;" proved their theory false by becoming one of the world's most powerful leaders.

In conclusion, Mrs. Sampson told the courageous story of Golda Meir's humble beginnings in a Russian "pit of poverty and oppression" to her rise to leader and "Founding Mother," the last living link with the giants, who made the dream of Zion come true.

Mrs. Estes continued the interesting evening by giving the views and events in the lives of four more influential women.

Ella Grasso, "the first woman to win a state governorship on her own merits rather than by succeeding her husband," evaluates herself as still being "classically compassionate" although she has proved that she can be as "tough in office as anyone else."

Susie Marshall Sharp, the only woman chief justice of a State Supreme Court, "has been a trail-blazer since Bella Abzug was a little girl," observed Mrs. Estes. Susie, who has remained single, believed, "The trouble comes when a woman tries to be too many things at one time." She continues, "That's when the psychiatrist is called at umpteen dollars an hour. A woman has to draw up a blue print and budget her life."

Barbara Jordan, the first black woman to be elected to Congress, will be remembered for her impassioned defense of Constitutional Principles during the Nixon Impeachment Hearings, as well as for her appearance as the second keynote speaker of the 1976 Democratic Convention. Barbara's plea, "Let us heed the voice of the people and recognize their common sense," left no one doubting that she had named one of her own strongest attributes - common sense.

Mrs. Estes concluded by tracing the rapid rise to leadership of Margaret Hilda Roberta Thatcher, who defeated former Prime Minister Edward Heath in 1975 to become the first woman to head a British political party, and, in summary, stated that while Margaret Thatcher may have image problems with her public before she reaches Number 10 Downing St., she has no identity problem within herself.

Town, Country Club Has Program On Home Decorating

The October meeting of Saltcreek Town and Country Junior Woman's Civic Club was held recently in the home of Mrs. Willard Speakman, SR 56, Route 4, with Mrs. Beverly Gillium, Mrs. Beverly Carper and Mrs. Diane Clarke as hostesses.

Myrna Fujitt, vice president, presided over the business session. The club pledge was repeated, roll call was taken and the treasurer's report indicated the Oct. 2, bake sale was very successful.

Mrs. Lois A. Schiff, interior decorator from Wardell's Carpets and Rugs, gave an interesting talk about home decorating.

It was agreed to appoint two members each month to clean the Laurelville Park in an effort to maintain litter-free area. Maintenance and care of the park has been a club project for several years.

Following the meeting refreshments were served to Mary Ann Delong, Marilyn Frost, Myrna Fujitt, Wilma Judy, Mary Lou Ross, Phyllis Ross, Donna Strous, and Thelma Williams by the hostesses.

The next club meeting will be 7:30 p.m., Nov. 9, at the home of Marilyn Frost, Route 1, Laurelville. Members are asked to note the change in time for this meeting.

Monrovia Club Schedules Workshop

Monrovia Garden Club has scheduled a meeting for 8 p.m. Monday in the basement of Five Points United Methodist Church. A workshop will be conducted to make pinecone wreaths. Members are to bring their materials.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Joe Armentrout, Mrs. Ruth O'Day and Mrs. Juanita Woods.

Schein, Koch Battle For Commissioner's Position

Democrat Carl C. Schein will battle Republican Roger W. Koch for a seat on the Pickaway County Board of Commissioners.

The position, for a full term beginning Jan. 3, 1977, became available when incumbent commissioner Dick Tootle did not seek reelection. Schein won the primary by defeating five other Democrats, while Koch was unopposed.

Incumbent Republican L. Robert Liston has no opposition in his bid to regain a seat, full term beginning Jan. 2. Donald Strous is the other member of the Board of Commissioners.

Schein, 48, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Schein. He and his wife, Norma Hulse Schein, have four children, Chris, Mark, John, and Jane.

Schein, who has been a farmer for the past 30 years, is a graduate of Williamsport High School. He attended Ohio State University.

He is a member of the Masonic Lodge, Heber Chapter 501 OES 62, Williamsport, Scottish Rite and Aladdin Shrine, Columbus, and the Pickaway County Shrine Club.

Schein is district steward of the Williamsport United Methodist Church, having served as a trustee, member of the administrative board, and formerly teaching the seventh and eighth grade Sunday School classes.

UMW Feud Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—United Mine Workers Secretary Harry Patrick denies he usurped authority from President Arnold Miller and says the infighting must stop for the sake of the union.

He was responding to published reports that Miller has ordered an investigation into Patrick's handling of an incident involving fired staffers.

Newspaper accounts have indicated that disagreements between Miller and his one-time reform ticket running mate blossomed into a full-fledged feud with this latest incident.

"There is no feud as far as I am concerned. Personally I think the membership is sick of reading about fighting at the international and I am sick of it too," Patrick said in a statement to The Associated Press.

The dispute apparently began when Miller fired his executive assistant Edward Burke and public relations director Bernard Aaronson and then issued a directive that anything Aaronson removed from the building was to be inspected.

"Miller was not in the building and Patrick looked over Aaronson's belongings and saw there was nothing in them that belonged to the union," a source told the AP.

CITY OF CIRCLEVILLE PARK BOARD LEGAL NOTICE

Sealed proposals will be received by the Park Board of the City of Circleville, Ohio, at the City Auditor's Office at City Hall, 127 South Court Street, Circleville, Ohio 43113, for the following until 11:00 A.M. Eastern Standard Time, Wednesday, November 10, 1976, as authorized in Ordinance No. 90-76 for the purchase of an industrial mowing tractor.

Specifications and contract documents may be obtained at the Office of the City Auditor, City Hall, Circleville, Ohio 43113. Each proposal shall be submitted on the forms provided and according to the instructions supplied. Each proposal shall also be accompanied by the bid bond given in favor of the City of Circleville, Ohio, for an amount equal to at least five (5) percent of the total amount of the bid. The bid bond shall be either a bond issued by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Ohio or a certified check on any solvent bank made payable to the order of the City Auditor of the City of Circleville, Ohio. If the bidder fails or refuses to enter into a contract within ten (10) days after notice of award, the City of Circleville shall be entitled to the bid bond.

The bid bonds of unsuccessful bidders shall be canceled and returned. The bid bond of the successful bidder shall be retained pending the proper delivery of the specified tractor.

The Park Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids, waive any informalities in the same, or to accept any bid or combination of bids based on lowest and best bid or bids.

CARL SCHEIN

He is a member of the Pickaway County Historical Society, the Pickaway County Farm Bureau, the Westfall Farm Bureau Council, and the Ohio Cattleman's Association. He is a former board member and treasurer of the Farm Bureau and served on the youth committee and policy development committee.

Schein is also a former member, charter director, and treasurer of the Westfall Booster Club.

Schein is presently serving his 19th year as Deercreek Township Trustee and is president of the Pickaway County Trustees and Clerks Association and a member of the Pickaway County Planning Commission.

The 35-year-old Koch is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Koch. He and his wife, Bonnie Wells Koch, have two children, Caryn, 6, and Ryan, 3.

He is a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio University.

Koch has been a petroleum retailer for 16 years.

He is a member of the BPOE Elks Lodge, the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, Pickaway County Farm Bureau, and the Trinity Lutheran Church.

As a member of the Central Ohio Gasoline Dealers Association, Koch served as secretary and assistant treasurer.

Following are responses to questions posed to the two candidates by The Herald staff:

Why are you seeking this office?

SCHEIN

Because I have always been interested in local government and Pickaway County. As a taxpayer, I am equally interested in seeing that our tax dollar is used wisely.

KOCH

I feel I can contribute to the needs of the people and the development and growth of Pickaway County.

What makes you think you are a better choice than your opponent for the people of Pickaway County?

SCHEIN

Because of my past experience as a Township trustee, member of Pickaway County Planning Commission, and by serving as President of Pickaway County Trustee & Clerks Assn. I am aware of many of the problems that exist in all 15 townships in Pickaway Co. This communication between the people of the townships and the County Commissioners is essential.

KOCH

As a businessman for 16 years I have been involved with the problems facing the community and it's citizens from a local, state, and national view.

If elected, what are your goals?

SCHEIN

My goal is to make Pickaway County a growing and better community & still stay in the budget provided.

KOCH

To see that every tax dollar is cultivated efficiently in every county department.

Do you plan any changes in personnel or policy if elected?

SCHEIN

I plan no changes at this time.

KOCH

I do not plan to make any changes in personnel or policy.

Will you be able to work with other elected officials in the county?

SCHEIN

KOCH

I believe I will be able to work with all other elected county officials.

County finances have become a multi-million dollar business controlled for the most part by the Pickaway County Commissioners. What priorities will you attempt to establish for the distribution of the funds and explain your reasons?

SCHEIN

Presently, I have no priorities to the allocation of funds. Each must receive its fair share to function properly. Past history and future growth must be considered. I am aware of the need for adequate law enforcement, road and bridge improvement, solid waste disposal, etc. to keep pace with the growth of Pickaway Co. We must provide for the safety and health of every citizen. All needs must be considered, while still staying within the budget provided.

KOCH

My priorities regarding the county budget is to review all money being spent in each department and insure that funds are spent economically and beneficially for each citizen of Pickaway County.

If township officials should fail to permit the operation of a sanitary landfill, what action should be taken?

SCHEIN

The county would then have to take temporary action by hauling to some other site out of the county until some agreement could be reached.

KOCH

An investigation should be made into a permanent solution to a problem that effects the entire county.

Voters In 2 Cities Eye Tax Questions

By TOM JOURNEY
Associated Press Writer

While voters in dozens of Ohio communities will be asked to approve higher municipal income taxes next Tuesday, residents of one city are trying to reduce their tax and residents of another are trying to repeal theirs.

An estimated 40 communities have income tax proposals on their ballots. Ohio law permits cities to levy a 1 per cent tax without voter approval.

But in Tipp City, a Miami County village south of Troy, residents petitioned to reduce the 0.7 per cent tax they have paid since 1971 by 0.2 percentage points.

In Scioto County, a group of New Boston residents hopes to repeal a 1 per cent tax, the only income tax the community of nearly 3,400 has ever had.

Proponents of the Tipp City reduction argue that the existing tax is more than the city of nearly 5,100 needs. But, City Manager Tim Hansley says that overall the city has broken even.

"We collected more than we needed in 1974 but less in 1975," he said. "We could probably make a case for increasing the tax."

"Seventy-one per cent of the people who pay the withholding tax live outside the city," Hansley said. "It's a smart tax for our residents to have ... because we're a bedroom community and we have a lot of light industry."

He estimated the income tax would generate $230,000 in revenue this year, or more than 40 per cent of the city's budget, and that the lower tax would take a $60,000 bite from the budget.

In New Boston, Tax Director Jennings Coburn said repeal of the city's 1 per cent levy would cut 33 per cent from the city budget. The tax has produced $150,000 this year and Coburn said he expects it to bring $200,000 by the end of the year.

"At a time when cities are finding themselves in financial difficulty, it's probably not wise to reduce or repeal taxes," said John Gotherman, general counsel for the Ohio Municipal League in Columbus.

Despite the nearly 40 income tax proposals on next week's ballot, he said "I don't think we have more repeals or reductions on the ballot than normal."

While "it's only logical to find from time to time people will try to repeal taxes," Gotherman said he does not look for a surge of repeal or reduction efforts in the future.

"To some extent, the tax crisis is generated somewhat by candidates who talk about it. I'm not so sure the people are as concerned," he said.

Auto Price Hikes Seen Last For '77

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price of a typically equipped 1977 U.S.-made automobile is up $333 from the 1976 version, but government officials say they foresee no further increases in this year's models.

The Council on Wage and Price Stability, which monitors inflation for the federal government, said Wednesday that manufacturers are expected to stabilize their income by turning out more cars rather than by raising prices again.

The council, after studying confidential data from the four largest auto manufacturers, reported a 4.1-per-cent hike in the price of 1977 subcompacts, a 6.9-per-cent increase in mid-sized cars and an over-all average boost of 5.9 per cent.

In other economic developments: —General Motors reported record-shattering profits in the third quarter, reflecting improvement in the national economy.

—The Labor Department announced that output per hour of work was up at an annual rate of 3.8 per cent last quarter, a leveling off. Hourly compensation of workers, adjusted for inflation, rose 1.2 per cent, the smallest gain in five quarters.

—Liberal economists said the Ford administration's sharp cutback in federal spending during the last quarter must share the blame for lagging economic growth. Spending was $7.6 billion below the budget, but administration spokesmen denied any direct connection to the slump. But the size of the spending cutback took them by surprise.

Religious Notes Seen In Campaign

NEW YORK (AP) — You couldn't call it a hymn sing, but religious notes have run like a refrain through the presidential campaign. The reverential overtures still were sounding as the windup neared.

Not to miss a beat, Democratic candidate Jimmy Carter met for about an hour with evangelical leaders in mid-October, just as the Republican, President Ford, had done the month before.

They also had huddled with Roman Catholic bishops.

And they had given their assurance to Jews about sustaining the state of Israel.

The religious chord also hummed through a score of other moral issues — abortion, honesty in government, Arab anti-Jewish pressure on business firms, the Supreme Court ban on school-sponsored prayers, racial justice, armaments, foreign policy, relieving the poor and jobless, even about taste in language.

Communication outlets of several church bodies issued summaries of the stands they have taken on various questions, along with the stated positions of the candidates.

Such an analysis in the Lutheran Church in America weekly, The Lutheran, pointed out that it was neither "possible nor desirable" for the Church to endorse either candidate, but offered the comparison to help voters make up their minds.

Similar nonpartisanship was stressed by various other church appraisals of the issues, including those by the Roman Catholic bishops, the interdenominational National Council of Churches and by a series of articles for the Southern Baptist Press.

"Southern Baptists must neither support nor oppose Jimmy Carter simply because he is a fellow Southern Baptist," advised the Rev. C. Welton

Gaddy of the Southern Baptist Christian Life Commission. "Episcopalians should neither support nor oppose Gerald Ford because he is an Episcopalian."

But the church guidance about the issues flowed heavily, and paid political ads for the candidates showed up in religious publications.

Carter, Ford Seek Ohio Votes

CLEVELAND (AP) — President Ford and Jimmy Carter, both aware that the election in Ohio may be won or lost in Cuyahoga County, have made grandstand plays for the vote here.

Carter, who was to return to Ohio today for a rally in Toledo after an overnight stay in New York, must win big in Cleveland if he is to capture Ohio's 25 electoral votes next Tuesday.

President Ford hopes to merely hold his own in this heavily Democratic city while defeating Carter in other population centers like Columbus and Cincinnati which he visited earlier Thursday.

In Cleveland, the President took dead aim at the ethnic vote, seeking to allay fears over his remark about a lack of Soviet domination in Eastern Europe.

Ford has admitted that his statement in the second presidential debate was a mistake, but on Thursday he was emphatic in a speech to nearly 5,000 Clevelanders in Republican Mayor Ralph Perk's old Polish-Czech neighborhood.

"As long as I am President," he said, "our great country will never recognize nor acquiesce to Soviet domination of Eastern Europe."

At his meeting in the White House with evangelical leaders, Ford declared his "commitment to the Christian faith" and that he had a "relationship with Jesus Christ through my church and through my daily life."

"Prayer is very important to me," he told leaders of the National Association of Evangelicals and National Association of Religious Broadcasters. To questions, he also discussed ethical issues in various national and foreign policy matters.

Carter, at his later meeting with some of the same leaders at a campaign stop in Indianapolis, also responded to questions, said he clings to the "Judeo-Christian ethic," that he prays "many times during the day," and reads the Bible daily.

"I haven't missed a day this year," he said. "It's a very good way in the hectic world of politics to close the evening with a quiet prayer and reading the Bible."

While the religious organizations shunned specific endorsements, some individual clergymen went all the way, coming out for one man or the other.

They call him a problem child. "Can't reach him," say some. "He won't respond," echo others. Young as he is, he's already been in trouble with the police.

Why? There are lots of words, lots of phrases, to describe youngsters like this. The papers are full of them every day. There are lots of excuses given — for him, and for society. Are they valid?

This boy has parents. Why can't they reach him? Is it, perhaps, because they can't really reach themselves? Because they've never found themselves?

Self-discovery takes courage. It doesn't come easily. It takes help. It demands faith. The starting point for a quest of this kind is in the Church. This boy needs the Church. So do his parents. So, for that matter, do we all!

Fighting Shatters Lebanon Truce

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Heavy fighting broke out in Beirut during the night for the first time in the nine-day-old cease-fire. The civil war's 57th truce was also threatened by fighting south of the capital and by the return of more Palestinians to southeast Lebanon.

Leftist Moslem and rightwing Christian forces in Beirut traded grenades and machinegun fire at close range all night. Hospital and militia sources reported that more than 45 persons were killed and 65 wounded, a toll comparable to the nightly totals before the cease-fire began Oct. 21.

Each side said it repulsed repeated tank and armored-car assaults along the front line dividing the city into Moslem and Christian sectors.

A spokesman for the small Arab League peacekeeping force said the outbreak was a "serious setback that we are trying hard to contain before it undermines the whole Arab-sponsored peace plan to end the Lebanese conflict."

More fighting was reported by Former President Camille Chamoun, the most militant of the Christian decision makers. He charged that Moslem socialist leader Kamal Jumblatt's mountain warriors were attacking Chamoun's hometown, Deir el Kamar, 20 miles southeast of Beirut.

"Leftists are also storming into two neighboring Christian villages, ransacking and dynamiting Christian homes in what may develop into another massacre," said Chamoun, who appealed to Christian President Elias Sarkis to send peacekeeping forces to stop the attacks.

"If Arab peacekeepers fail to repel the attackers, then Syrian intervention troops should be called in by the president," Chamoun said. "Otherwise we will have another round of fullscale war."

Syrian President Hafez Assad abandoned the Palestinians and leftist Lebanese Moslems last June and sent 21,000 troops into Lebanon to prevent them from overrunning the Christians and setting up a radical government. But since the Arab summit meeting in Cairo earlier this week, the Syrians have been cool toward their summer-time allies.

A spokesman for Palestinian leader Yasser Arafat said his forces were "pouring" through Syrian lines into southeast Lebanon to regain control of the bases in the Arkoub region from which they raided Israel before the start of the civil war 18 months ago.

A peace plan approved at the Cairo summit meeting provides for the Palestinians' return to the Arkoub. But Christian forces which recently took over much of the border region vowed they would not permit this, and the Palestinian move south raised fears of showdown battles. Israel has also said it would not let the guerrillas get into position to resume raids across the border.

Frightened civilians are fleeing the area. Press reports said at least 300 truckloads of families left the border regions for Sidon, the Moslem port 40 miles north of the frontier, and for Beirut, 25 miles north of Sidon.

Pickaway County Counselors Hold Meeting At CJHS

The Pickaway County Counselors held their monthly meeting Tuesday at the Circleville Junior High School.

Members present were Doris Gillespie, Roger Wolfe and Richard Fisher, Circleville High School; Tom Greer, Westfall High School; Sharon Wilamowski, Circleville Junior High; Willard Kobel, Logan Elm; Jack Leaker, assistant county superintendent; Carol Whitney, Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center; and Howard Weaver, Teays Valley High School.

Kobel began the discussion by stating that he had been busy adjusting schedules for failing students. The group guidance program is going very well at all four grade levels. He believes it has been especially helpful in encouraging students to visit the guidance office. All seniors at Logan Elm will be taking the Armed Services Vocational Test Battery.

Roger Lewis, acting director of the Pickaway County Mental Health Clinic, discussed the services available at his agency and procedures for making referrals. Services available are varied and can include family therapy, crisis intervention, insight therapy and drug therapy.

Tom Greer provided information about the teacher inservice training session conducted at Jackson Elementary School by the Westfall librarians. Greer also mentioned the limited number of students who took the PSAT test at Westfall High School this past Saturday.

Leaker discussed county testing program in relation to funds available for testing services.

Wolfe explained procedures for dealing with handicapped students.

Carol Whitney announced the open house scheduled at Pickaway-Ross Vocational Center for 1-4 p.m. November 14, 1976. She also stated that information booklets for eighth grade students would be distributed in November.

Mrs. Gillespie and Fisher plan to administer the OVIS to all 10th grade students at Circleville High School on November 1 and 2. They have been conducting group orientation concerning the OVIS and careers. Other activities scheduled and underway are parent conferences, senior conferences, and the North Central Association evaluation of the high school program.

Weaver noted that student progress conferences, senior conferences, and second semester schedule adjustments will be among the major activities at Teays Valley High School.

The next meeting will be November 30, 1976 at Westfall High School. Sam Dettra will explain the services offered by PICCA and Volunteers for Youth.

The Pickaway County counselors encourage any community member who has a question about the educational program in his area to contact his local guidance department.

Man Questioned In 3 Accidents

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP) — Tuscarawas County authorities were questioning a Missouri man in connection with three hit-and-run accidents, one of them fatal.

Uhrichsville police said Thomas O. Hanes, 22, of New Philadelphia was struck and killed as he walked across a state highway near here.

A companion's description of the vehicle matched the one involved in two other accidents, authorities said.

Peso Devaluation Brings Bargains

EDITOR'S NOTE — A hotel room for $5 a day, filet mignon at $2.20, a bottle of wine only $1.50 — those are some of the bargains Americans are finding in Mexico after devaluation of the peso. Here is a report.

By THOMAS G. WELLS
Associated Press Writer

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) — Tourists from the United States and most of the 55,000 retired Americans living in Mexico find it hard to suppress gleeful grins as pesos multiply in their wallets.

Two devaluations in two months have made Mexico one of the world's great tourist bargains and doubled the number of pesos a retired American gets for his dollar pension check.

"I can live like a king here now," said Ed Schopp, who used to farm in Salix, Iowa.

Mexican wage earners and foreigners who live on income from investments inside the country were stunned, however. The government has made no real effort to explain what devaluation might mean to them.

Mexico's currency was allowed to float — seek its own level of value — on world money markets on Sept. 1 after 22 years of being pegged at 12.5 pesos to the dollar. The government later stabilized the rate of exchange at 19.9 to the dollar but in a surprise announcement last Tuesday night allowed it to float freely again. It immediately shot to 26.5, and on Thursday a dollar bought 25.79 pesos in major banks.

"This is my 20th trip to Mexico since 1958 and it has never been so cheap," said Linda Binkle of Santa Barbara, Calif. "My parents and I have one of the best rooms at one of the best hotels in Guadalajara for $5. I bought a leather jacket for $40 yesterday. That same jacket would cost $200 or $250 in the United States."

Prices of hotels and most restaurants are controlled by the government and have been allowed to rise only 20 per cent. A top-class hotel room that cost the equivalent of $28.80 on Monday now costs $21.69. Taxi fares, bus fares, meals and tourist goods and services dropped similarly.

John Colobero and Bill Austin of Newport Beach, Calif., found Guadalajara a tourist's dream.

"We spent $17 for dinner for two last night, with cocktails. The same meal in a comparable restaurant in California would cost us $35 or $40," Colobero said.

Filet mignon in a plush Guadalajara restaurant costs $2.20. A bottle of local wine costs $1.50.

Retired Americans in Mexico were very worried before the first devaluation because inflation had been so heavy in the past three years that their fixed incomes were dwindling.

"When my wife and I moved here seven years ago we rented our apartment for $160 a month. It went up to $224 a month but now with the devaluations it costs me only $112 a month," said Elliot Prescott, formerly of Oak Park, Ill. "You can do a good deal more with your money here now than in the States."

Claim FBI Knew About Pearl Harbor

HONOLULU (AP) — A former governor of Hawaii says, in comments recorded before his death, that an FBI agent warned him about the impending attack on Pearl Harbor a week before the Japanese bombing of Dec. 7, 1941.

The late Gov. John A. Burns, who at the time was a 32-year-old police captain in charge of a four-man espionage bureau, makes the statement in his tape-recorded memoirs.

Burns recorded the tapes in January 1975, three months before his death, as part of a University of Hawaii oral history project. They were to be presented today to the University library.

Burns said that on Dec. 7, 1941, he looked out his kitchen window and saw Japanese planes overhead.

"Nothing I can do about it," Burns said on the tape. "It was not unexpected to me at all, because ... I was told by (FBI Agent Robert L.) Shivers a week before that we were gonna be attacked."

Burns said he did not press Shivers, who was in charge of the Honolulu bureau, about the source of his information. But Burns speculated that it came from then-FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, who Burns believed was informed either by British intelligence officers or by sources in Washington who had broken the Japanese diplomatic code.

Ford, Carter Continue To Exchange Barbs

By DAVE RILEY
Associated Press Writer

President Ford's key aides say he is "very close" to capturing the White House for the next four years as he prepares for his last campaign weekend on the road before Tuesday's balloting.

As Ford stressed his foreign policy experience Thursday night, Democratic nominee Jimmy Carter was assailing the Republican administration as being incapable of stopping inflation or fighting unemployment.

Ford was heading today for Milwaukee, St. Louis and Houston. Carter was to campaign in Philadelphia, St. Louis and Toledo, Ohio.

As for the vice presidential candidates, Republican Sen. Bob Dole was on the road today, and Democratic Sen. Walter Mondale took the day off.

In New York on Thursday night, Carter asserted that Ford's administration was a captive of special interest groups, and he said Ford's efforts to portray himself as "the champion of the middle class are a cruel hoax."

In a position paper issued from New York, Carter said the Republicans "failed to stop inflation because they believed that unemployment was the cure, because they were afraid to stand up to powerful special interests, because they have sought to play business and labor and agriculture and consumers against each other, rather than seeking cooperation, understanding and restraint."

Carter said his administration would aim economic aid programs at areas of high unemployment, would more intensively enforce antitrust laws and would launch an active White House effort to hold down inflationary price increases in basic industries.

White House chief of staff Richard Cheney said Thursday that Ford is "very close" to victory and is overtaking Carter largely because of his smooth-running campaign and his television blitz.

Ford apparently has confidence in his ability to win California and will not return there. But Cheney said that as a result of Republican polls, Ford will spend part of this final pre-election weekend in New York, although he had earlier been considered too far behind Carter there to merit another visit.

Ford aides appear pleased with the "Jerry and Joe Shows," paid television programs that allow Ford to field questions he wants to answer in a talk-show format. In those 30-minute programs, beamed into key states, Ford is lobbied questions by sportscaster Joe Garagiola.

Cheney said that foreign policy is becoming an increasingly important issue and that's what Ford concentrated on in the program with Garagiola in Cleveland on Thursday night.

"I've had the experience of dealing with the serious problems in the area of foreign policy," Ford said on the show. "I don't think there's any substitute for that kind of experience..."

He stressed his meetings with Soviet Leader Leonid Brezhnev, saying, "That experience is sitting across the table from General Secretary Brezhnev and saying, 'I don't agree with you. We aren't going to make that kind of a deal."

In Cleveland, Ford told an audience in an ethnic neighborhood that as long as he is president their relatives still under Soviet domination will not be forgotten.

Ford didn't mention the blunder he pulled in his second debate with Carter, in which he declared that the Soviet Union does not dominate its Eastern European satellites. But he told the crowd Thursday night that "the United States as a matter of fundamental principle supports the aspirations for freedom and national independence for the people of Eastern Europe and as long as I am president of the United States, our great country will never recognize or acquiesce in the Soviet domination of Eastern Europe."

In Cincinnati, Ford announced a proposal that he said would help limit the spread of nuclear arms around the world. And he announced that construction of a private uranium enrichment plant will begin next year at Portsmouth, Ohio.

But Carter said Ford's proposal on limiting nuclear weapons was "too little, too late" and "a short-sighted, campaign-inspired attempt to correct the timid record of the past." And Carter opposed construction of the uranium enrichment plant unless it could be shown to be "necessary, safe and economical."

In Cleveland, Carter said he could not promise voters there would be a tax cut during his administration, but he said such cuts are possible as a result of projecting his proposed economic policies.

"I am very careful not to promise" tax cuts, he said. He said Wednesday that he felt such cuts would be "almost inevitable."

Dole, campaigning in Oregon on Thursday, linked Soviet domination of Eastern European nations with Democrats. "I don't know of any Republicans hanging around Potsdam or Yalta," he said.

Dole is no longer using the term "Democrat wars" in referring to World War I, World War II, Korea and Vietnam. He has, at various times, repeated, modified and denied ever using the term, which he first used in his nationally televised debate with Mondale.

And Dole indicated his threat to talk about "Democrat wars" if Democrats talk about the Watergate scandals is working. "I've noticed less talk about Watergate in the past few days," he said.

Independent candidate Eugene McCarthy, trying to get on the ballot in New York, was to take his case to the Supreme Court today. McCarthy was ruled off the ballot by New York's highest court because of irregularities in his nominating petitions.

Firemen Snuff Car Fire

The Circleville Fire Department was called to 1108 S. Washington St. at 6:09 p.m. Thursday evening when a 1970 AMC Gremlin, owned by Rick Petty, developed a short in the wiring, resulting in a fire.

Firemen used water to extinguish the blaze. No injuries were reported.

CIRCLEVILLE

Seven elected officials in Pickaway County will be seeking reelection without opposition Tuesday.

They are Common Pleas Court Judge William Ammer, County Commissioner L. Robert Liston, Clerk of Courts Sara M. Dresbach, County Recorder Hazel M. Yeatts, County Treasurer Robert W. Wood, County Engineer Henry T. McCrady, and Coroner, Ray Carroll.

WILLIAM AMMER

William Ammer, 57, was born in Circleville and has been a lifelong resident of Pickaway County.

He is a graduate of Circleville High School and Ohio State University's College of Commerce and College of Law and served with the United States Army for 3 1/2 years during World War II.

He completed post graduate level courses at Northwestern University, Ohio State University, and Practising Law Institute, New York City. He is a graduate of National College of State Trial Judges.

Judge Ammer has 28 years of legal experience. He was admitted to the Bar in 1947 and admitted to practice before the U.S. District Court and the U.S. Supreme Court.

He served as Attorney examiner for the Industrial Commission of Ohio for four years and Assistant Attorney General of Ohio for two years. He was elected Prosecuting Attorney in Pickaway County in 1952 and 1956 and has five years private practice.

Judge Ammer was appointed Common Pleas Court Judge of Pickaway County in 1957 and has been elected to that position three times by large majorities. He is presently serving his 19th year as Common Pleas Judge.

Twice, the Pickaway County Bar Association endorsed him for the Common Pleas Judge and in 1966 and 1968 endorsed him for Court of Appeals.

Chief Justices of the Ohio Supreme Court have assigned him to cases in 28 other counties ranging from Ohio's smallest, Vinton, to the biggest, Cuyahoga.

Out of 9,900 cases handled in Pickaway County in 18 1/2 years by Judge Ammer, only 11 have been reversed by the Court of Appeals. Only one decision by Judge Ammer has been reversed by the Ohio Supreme Court.

His speed-up of case handling has been recognized by the Supreme Court of Ohio with presentations of eight awards for outstanding, excellent, and superior judicial service.

Judge Ammer is the recipient of outstanding and meritorious awards of the Pickaway County Bar Association.

He is also the author of articles in legal and judicial publications and his opinions have been published in official reports of Ohio courts.

As a leader in the legal profession, Judge Ammer served as president of the Ohio Common Pleas Judges Association in 1968, chairman of the Judges' Legislative Committee for five years, chairman of the Criminal Law Committee of the Ohio State Bar Association from 1964 to 1967, secretary of the Scioto Conservancy Court from 1961 to 1972, secretary-treasurer of the Ohio Prosecuting Attorneys Association in 1957, a member of the National Conference of State Trial Judges, American Judicature Society, and the American Bar Association, and president of the Pickaway County Bar Association in 1955-56.

Judge Ammer is also an outstanding leader in civic and fraternal organizations.

He is a member of the Circleville Kiwanis Club, serving as lieutenant governor in 1959, the Circleville area Chamber of Commerce, Pickaway County Chapter American Red Cross and president in 1955, Pickaway County Chapter American Cancer Society and president in 1959, Masonic Temple Association and president in 1963 and 1969, member of all Masonic Lodge bodies and served as officer in each Circleville body, member of the Ohio Priory No. 18 Knights of the New York Cross of Honor, member of the Community United Methodist Church, member of Aladdin Temple, Eastern Star, Elks, American Legion, Farm Bureau, Historical Society, Knights of Pythias, IOOF, and others, a member of Beta Gamma Sigma commerce honorary fraternity, a member of the Pickaway County TB and Health Association and vice president from 1968 to 1971, president of the Ted Lewis Museum Inc., president of the Pickaway County Shrine Club a two-time panelist on "Columbus Town Meeting", District Deputy, Grand High Priest, Grand Chapter Royal Arch Mason of Ohio from 1970 to 1973, current Grand Sword Bearer of Grand Commandery, Knights Templar of Ohio.

Judge Ammer is also listed in Who's Who in the Midwest.

He is seeking the office of Common Pleas Court Judge "to continue the efficient and effective administration of justice in the Common Pleas Court."

Goals for his term include "a determination that the Right Shall Prevail made possible by 19 1/2 years of judicial experience, close attention to detail, and speed-up of cases."

He plans no changes in personnel or policy and believes he will be able to continue to work with other elected officials in the county.

L. ROBERT LISTON JR.

Fifty-five-year-old L. Robert Liston Jr. will be seeking his second term as Pickaway County Commissioner.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Liston, he and his wife Betty, have three children, Bruce and Brent Liston, and Becky Liston Brown.

He graduated from Circleville High School and attended Ohio University, and many state and district meetings and seminars on county government.

Liston is a member of all Masonic bodies, Shrine, Eastern Star, Elks, American Legion, and VFW. He is past president of the Circleville Booster Club and has served on the executive and central Republican committees.

He is also a member of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau, the Historical Society, Pickaway County Farmers Club, Ohio Cattlemen's Association, past president of the Pickaway County Cattle Feeders, and the Pickaway County Pork Council.

Liston is a member of the Community United Methodist Church and past president of the Methodist Men's Club.

He has served many times on the Cancer and Heart Fund drives and seven years as a Circleville Township Trustee. Liston served three years in the United States Army during World War II in the European and Pacific Theaters of operation.

The Herald asked Liston several questions concerning his candidacy and policy. Here are his answers:

Why are you seeking this office?

I am seeking reelection so that I may continue to serve the people of Pickaway County in the same open, dignified, and enthusiastic manner as I have in the past.

If elected, what are your goals?

To continue to maintain a financially sound and progressive county government. To maintain a well-balanced budget and see that our tax dollars are allocated where the county will derive the most benefit.

To continue to maintain a good working relationship with all elected officials and to continue to be available to the people of Pickaway County at all times. Pickaway County is entitled to the best of government and I promise to continue to devote my time and energy toward that goal.

Do you plan any changes in personnel or policy if elected?

I am pledged to do the best for Pickaway County and would follow that aim. Few people realize we have no control or jurisdiction over other elected officials and their personnel. Our only jurisdiction is over the money they receive from the county budget. At the present time, I favor no change in personnel directly under our office, and we must follow federal and state statutes which sometimes makes for a change in policy.

Will you be able to work with other elected officials in the county?

I will continue to maintain a good working relationship with all elected officials.

County finances have become a multi-million dollar business controlled for the most part by Pickaway County Commissioners. What priorities will you attempt to establish for the distribution of the funds and explain your reasons?

To continue to see that the departments of the county receive a fair, just, and balanced budget. To see that each department receives enough funds to give the people of the county the best protection and benefits possible. To continue efforts finalizing the 100 per cent Federal funded block grant for a Senior Center and housing of Senior Citizens. I am opposed to unnecessary taxes and unnecessary spending. I am not obligated to anyone or any special factions - whatever decisions I make will be for the good of Pickaway County as a whole.

If township officials should fail to permit the operation of a sanitary landfill, what action should be taken?

For the last several months a Landfill Steering Committee, composed of several knowledgeable and devoted citizens who were appointed by the City of Circleville, Township Trustees, and the Commissioners, have been working closely with the EPA and hopefully a solution to the problem will be found.

SARA M. DRESBACH

Sara M. Dresbach, 43, worked as Deputy Clerk of Courts before beginning her first of three terms as Clerk of Courts in Pickaway County.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lemuel A. Dewey, she is the wife of Ned E. Dresbach.

She graduated from Williamsport High School in 1951.

She is a member of the Pickaway County Women's Republican Club and the Ohio Clerk of Courts Association of which she serves on the Executive Committee.

She is also a member of the Calvary United Methodist Church.

She worked as Deputy Clerk of Courts for 13 years before running for Clerk. And she has logged three terms as Clerk of Courts with a total of 25 years serving the people of Pickaway County.

The Herald posed several questions to Mrs. Dresbach. Here are her answers:

Why are you seeking this office?

Because I feel I am qualified, experienced and I like to work with people. I am interested in my job and love the work.

If elected, what are your goals?

To continue to run an efficient office according to law and to the best of my ability.

Do you plan any changes in personnel or policy if elected?

No.

Will you be able to work with other elected officials in the county?

Very well, as we do now. I think this is one County that the elected officials get along, and I certainly hope this continues.

HAZEL M. YEATTS

Hazel Yeatts, 61, has a long record of public service in Pickaway County, including 14 as Recorder.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Lanman, she and her late husband, Elmer E. Yeatts, are the parents of two children, Thomas E. and Jerry L. Yeatts.

Mrs. Yeatts is a graduate of Circleville High School and OTS Business College in Columbus.

She was secretary to the Pickaway County Prosecuting Attorney from 1937 to 1945, a Deputy Sheriff of Pickaway County from 1945 to 1950, a Deputy Recorder from 1953 to 1958, a Deputy Auditor from 1959 to 1963, and has served as recorder since 1963. She has also worked as a secretary, bookkeeper, and sales clerk.

Mrs. Yeatts is past president of the DeMolay Mother's Club and currently serves as vice-president of the Democratic Women's Club.

At the Community United Methodist Church, she is treasurer of Mrs. Marion's Class, a member of the Administrative Board, and a member of the Ecumenical Committee.

In answer to questions, she replied: Why are you seeking this office?

See Bumper Grain Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says world grain and rice production in the 1976-77 trade year will reach almost 1.3 billion metric tons, about 1.2 per cent more than estimated in mid-September and enough to allow the first rebuilding of stocks this decade.

That would amount to a 78 million ton increase over the preliminary estimate of the 1975-76 crops.

It means this harvest would be the first in five years that was significantly larger than the expected demand for the grains, a report Wednesday said.

Consumption of grains and rice was projected in the report at slightly more than 1.27 billion tons of 2,204.6 pounds each, leaving about 25 million tons of new grain for a world reserve next June 30.

"During the past seven years, consumption has averaged 12 million tons larger than production, with the result that stocks have declined," the report said.

Address Error Fatal

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — When a young mother of three called police and asked them to rush to "319 Victoria," they went to Victoria Ave. By the time they got to Victoria Blvd., she had been knifed to death.

Amalia DeLong had neglected to mention that she lived in Kenmore, a suburb.

Buffalo police released Wednesday the transcript of the taped phone conversation.

"Police? Police, please come to 319 Victoria right away!"

"What's wrong?" asked the man at the emergency switchboard.

"There's a burglar.... I saw his face in the back. He was trying to break into the house. Please come right away."

"Okay, right away."

A squad car was dispatched immediately to 319 Victoria Ave. in Buffalo. Officers reached the street in minutes, but reported the number was nonexistent.

Meanwhile, at 319 Victoria Blvd. in Kenmore, Mrs. DeLong was being attacked.

Police said Wednesday that even if Mrs. DeLong, 28, had specified that she lived in the village adjacent to Buffalo, they might not have arrived in time to stop the killer on Monday. But they said they definitely would have had a better chance to catch the killer.

Kenmore police chief Elmer A. Arnet said there have been no significant leads in the slaying.

Tax Law Voided

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state attorney general's office has advised that a 1976 Kentucky law permitting the levy of an extra sales tax to finance northern Kentucky's mass transit system is unconstitutional.

But it would take a court order to block implementation of the law, if voters approve the tax proposal in the Nov. 2 election, according to Asst. Deputy Atty. Gen. Charles Runyan. State Revenue Commissioner Maurice Carpenter said Wednesday the department has prepared tentative tax forms to use beginning Jan. 1, 1977, if voters endorse the proposal.

The commissioner said the Revenue Department is "neutral" and would merely comply with the law which requires it to collect the tax.

The issue is extremely controversial in northern Kentucky, where a majority acknowledge the need for additional financing for the transit authority, but question where the money is to come from.

Under the terms of the legislation adopted by the General Assembly earlier this year, several counties who participate in the Transit Authority of Northern Kentucky (TANK) could place a proposal on the ballot to impose an additional one-half of one per cent sales tax.

Shoemaker Backs Fraud Probe

COLUMBUS — At a meeting of the State Controlling Board Tuesday, Oct. 26, 1976 State Representative Myrl H. Shoemaker (D-88th House District) voted to support the investigation of Ohio's scandal-plagued workmen's compensation fund and its overseeing agency, the Ohio Industrial Commission.

MYRL H. SHOEMAKER

The Controlling Board authorized the expenditure of $317,000 to finance the investigation. Of that amount, $150,000 was allotted to a special criminal investigation unit from the office of the Ohio Attorney General.

According to Shoemaker, the Attorney General will conduct the investigation with the co-operation of the Ohio Highway Patrol, other law enforcement agencies, the Bureau of Workmen's Compensation, and the Ohio Industrial Commission.

Shoemaker noted that at the Controlling Board meeting, held on October 18, 1976, the Industrial Commission wanted monies to conduct their own controlled investigation of the alleged pattern of wrongdoing within their own Commission.

Shoemaker said, "I don't believe you can achieve complete impartiality and justice when an agency investigates itself."

Legislation, Amended Senate Bill 545, recently enacted by the General Assembly regarding alleged workmen's compensation benefit fraud, specifically grants the authority to the Ohio Attorney General to conduct investigations in this area. In addition, the Attorney General will be empowered to convene a special grand jury to consider evidence coming out of the investigation according to Shoemaker.

Shoemaker said, "The Attorney General has, at his disposal, the services of the Bureau of Criminal Investigation, local law enforcement agencies and, possibly, the Federal Bureau of Investigation."

Shoemaker remarked that he is interested in the most straightforward, swift and cost-effective means of detecting and rooting out corruption or fraud in any office of state government, and that the Attorney General, as chief law enforcement officer of the state, is best suited and qualified to conduct an impartial investigation of the alleged pattern of criminal wrongdoing.

Candidates Seek Pennsylvania Votes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The political line on Pennsylvania is crucial, and it's still a toss-up in the narrowing election struggle between President Ford and Democratic challenger Jimmy Carter.

So important is the nation's third largest state, with its bloc of 27 electoral votes, that Carter and Ford scheduled more time in Pennsylvania than anywhere else in the campaign's closing days. Their vice presidential running mates also foraged for Keystone State votes.

"We're neck and neck now," claimed Martin Hamburger, executive director of Ford's drive in a state where Democrats outnumber Republicans by 650,000 out of 5.2 million registered voters. Only New York and California have more voters and more electoral votes.

Latest polls show Carter with a three-point edge, and Ford still gaining from the summer's 12-point bulge.

"It's going to be close," acknowledged Joseph Timilty, Carter's state campaign manager. "There's no question we have more votes than Ford in Pennsylvania. But we're not running against him at the moment, we're running against apathy."

Only five times out of 24 elections in this century has a candidate won the presidency without Pennsylvania's electoral votes. Woodrow Wilson did it in 1912 and 1916, Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1932, Harry Truman in 1948 and Richard Nixon in 1968.

"Pennsylvania is of paramount importance," Timilty says. "We can win the White House without Pennsylvania but it would make it awfully, awfully difficult."

Hamburger takes a similar position: "Pennsylvania is absolutely crucial to Ford. We need this state and also New Jersey, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Michigan to beat Carter."

A low turnout, coupled with leakage to independents Eugene McCarthy and Lester Maddox, could wreck Carter's chances. Democratic state leaders, led by Gov. Milton Shapp, are increasing get-out-the-vote pitches, particularly in the party's urban strongholds of Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Erie, Scranton, Wilkes-Barre, Allentown and Easton.

Even the million-dollar battle for the U.S. Senate, to succeed retiring Republican Minority Leader Hugh Scott, doesn't seem to have excited the public. Polls here also come up nearly even between Republican John Heinz, spending $2.2 million of his personal pickle-and-ketchup fortune, and Democrat William Green, who's hoping to raise about $800,000.

In contrast, Carter's Pennsylvania campaign is costing $180,000 and Ford's $157,000.

Both presidential candidates plan major personal appearances in the state as the campaign comes to a close.

Man Has Escape Habit

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — Don't mention the name of Gregory St. Julian to law enforcement authorities here — unless you know where he is.

St. Julian, 26, of Chicago, was arrested by police two weeks ago on local charges. These were later dropped, however, when it was learned that St. Julian was wanted in Chicago on warrants charging him with grand theft, grand theft-auto and forgery.

When Chicago detectives showed up Tuesday for their prisoner, the Santa Cruz Sheriff's department realized a jailer had inadvertently released St. Julian two hours earlier.

Police found St. Julian at his apartment in Capitola, five miles away, but he bolted from officers, leaped through a kitchen window, landed on the ground two stories below and sped off in a stolen car.

Police are still looking for him.

Kingsley, Long Seek Prosecutor

JAMES KINGSLEY

A new prosecuting attorney will be selected by Pickaway County voters in the general election.

Candidates are James R. Kingsley and P. Eugene Long II, two young, and well-qualified attorneys in Pickaway County.

Kingsley won the Democratic nod by beating incumbent prosecutor Richard L. Gerhardt in the primary election, while Long was unopposed.

The 29-year-old Kingsley is the son of Mrs. Marguerite K. Kingsley and the late Dr. Glen Kingsley.

Kingsley and his wife, Paula Jeanne, are the parents of a daughter, Tara Lynne, seven months.

He is a 1965 graduate of Lorain High School, and graduated from Muskingum College with a major in Psychology and a minor in economics in 1969, and the University of Toledo College of Law in 1972 with a doctor of Juris Prudence. At Toledo, he received a Board of Trustees academic scholarship and was Note and Comment editor of the Law Review.

Kingsley has also completed the Northwestern course for prosecuting attorneys and, earlier in the year, completed a Military Procurement Law Course at Charlottesville, Va.

During college, Kingsley was employed summers by United States Steel. In 1966, he worked on an Ore Carrier on Lake Erie, in 1967 he worked in a blast furnace, in 1968 he worked at an open hearth, and in 1969 he worked in the Scarfing Department. He joined the United States Army in 1970 and was assigned to the Adjutant General's Corps of the Army Reserve, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, Indianapolis, Ind.

Kingsley is a member of the BPOE Elks Lodge and the Presbyterian Church.

He serves as legal counsel for the Pickaway County Community Fund, a director of the Red Cross, a member of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Pickaway County Historical Society, and the Democratic Women's Club. He is also legal advisor for the Pickaway County Young Democrats.

Kingsley has served as Pickaway County Assistant Prosecuting Attorney from 1972 to 1975, instructor

Pasties Peril

Worrisome

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — "They're painful to my operation and my employees," argued the nightclub owner. And the permit board agreed after hearing medical opinions on: the perils of pasties.

Entertainers at the Pandora's Box on Powell Street will be allowed to take them off.

"There is a very definite concern that the wearing of pasties on the breast may cause allergic reaction in many individuals which could lead to permanent damage to the nipple area," said a letter from a dermatologist presented to the Board of Permit Appeals.

The topless permit was opposed by representatives of the nearby St. Francis and Sir Francis Drake hotels, who said they were afraid the street would deteriorate and this would be painful for their business.

Club owner Chris Mourtufas agreed not to hang any signs outside advertising topless entertainment. The signs outside the Pandora's Box now say "Girls, Girls, Girls."

Residents Launch Bid For Schorr

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP) — A group of Schenectady area residents has launched a campaign to enter the name of former CBS correspondent Daniel Schorr as a write-in candidate for the congressional seat held by Samuel S. Stratton.

Stratton led the recent unsuccessful fight to have Schorr cited for contempt for leaking a secret House report to the Village Voice, the newspaper which published it.

Stratton, who faces only token opposition for re-election next week, has dismissed the write-in campaign as "just a gag. Nobody in this district is going to seriously vote for Mr. Schorr."

Schorr, however, isn't even eligible to represent New Yorkers, since he is not a resident of the state.

Contacted at his home in Washington, D.C., Schorr said he was "flattered" by the group's action but that he had "no interest in running for office."

The group of local residents said they were entering Schorr's name as a symbolic gesture to protest Stratton's stance in the Schorr controversy and his support of large defense appropriations.

P. EUGENE LONG

at the Ohio Peace Officer's Training Counsel from 1974 to 1975, and is a member of the Pickaway County, Ohio State, and American Bar Associations. He served as treasurer of the local Bar in 1975 and is currently the secretary.

Kingsley is admitted to practice in all courts, including the U.S. Federal District Court.

Long, who will be 31 on the day of the election, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Long, Williamsport. He is the father of two children, Paul III and Todhunter.

He graduated from Monroe Township school in 1963 and served as valedictorian of his class.

Long received his BBA from Ohio University in 1967, and was awarded the Doctor of Juris Prudence from the University of Toledo College of Law in 1974.

He served on the management and sale staff of Owens-Illinois Inc. from 1967 to 1972.

Long is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha Alumni and the BPOE Elks Lodge. He is vice-president and a member of the Board of Directors of the Circleville Sertoma Club, a member of the Circleville Area Chamber of Commerce, the Farm Bureau, the Ohio University and University of Toledo Alumni Associations, and the Central Ohio Green and White Club. He is a past member of Star Grange and the Board of Directors of the Salvation Army.

He is a member of the Pickaway County Bar Association, serving as treasurer and public relations officers, the Ohio State Bar Association, and the American Bar Association. Long serves as a member of the General Practice Subcommittee of the ABA.

He is legal counsel for the villages of New Holland and Commercial Point, and has served as privately retained counsel for the Circleville Township Trustees.

Following are responses of the two candidates to general questions posed them by The Herald staff.

Kingsley
I am seeking the office of Prosecuting Attorney because I was encouraged to do so by the public officials I advised and the public I helped as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney — Democrats and Republicans alike. Further, I derived personal satisfaction from rendering the services I did in this capacity. Another equally important reason is that the Prosecuting Attorney represents local residents who are the victims of crime. They deserve the best representation available, and I believe my record shows I am the most experienced and qualified candidate for the job.

Long
I am seeking the office of Prosecuting Attorney because many citizens and elected officials have expressed the position that they have not received the complete representation of this office to which they are entitled and feel that I can bring that total dedication and representation to the people who deserve it.

What makes you think you are a better choice than your opponent for the People of Pickaway County?

Kingsley
Experience makes the difference. My record as Assistant Prosecuting Attorney is impeccable; I have a superior academic background; I have extensive trial experience and have consistently won convictions. I have already encountered and solved the civil problems the other elected officials face. Examine my background, ask those with whom I worked, and I am confident they will recommend me for the job of Prosecuting Attorney.

Long
Although equally qualified as attorneys to handle the trial work and court appearances required, I feel that my broader experience gained during five years of industrial management and sales experience give me more insight into the civil aspect of the job as legal representative of the entire county government by bringing independent, mature, and practical solutions to legal problems brought to this office.

If elected, what are your goals?

Kingsley
My goals are to: 1. Better assist local law enforcement officers by becoming involved in the criminal process before charges are filed; 2. Continue to give prompt, courteous answers to the other elected officials and the public through an open-door policy; 3. Continue to win convictions and see that appropriate sentences are imposed; 4. To keep all those who need to know informed of the changes in law.

Long
My goals are to restore the confidence and trust of all citizens and officials who need the services of the prosecutor's office by placing supreme emphasis on fulfillment of the responsibilities charged to that office.

Do you plan any changes in personnel or policy if elected?

Kingsley
I will not have an Assistant Prosecuting Attorney, but I will continue and expand the federally funded legal intern program I instigated. As a major policy change I will make myself available to the public whenever needed. Juvenile Court will receive my personal attention.

Long
A change in policy is anticipated in the increased emphasis on the total performance of the job without in any way lessening the importance of criminal prosecutions. As for changes in personnel, the office will of course be manned by my own employees, but any specific assignments are premature at this time.

Will you be able to work with other elected officials in the county?

Kingsley
Yes! I have done so in the past successfully, or I would not have won the primary election.

Long
Working with all other elected officials in a courteous, timely manner would be my greatest asset as Prosecuting Attorney as can be verified by discussing the point with any of those officials. The ability to deliver mature, independent, and practical solutions to their questions and problems in courteous and timely fashion is the ultimate promise which we make to the voters and officials of Pickaway County.

What steps have you taken or planned to bolster your strength with the farming community?

Kingsley
My record as a knowledgeable, hard-working Assistant Prosecuting Attorney in representing victims of rural crime is being communicated through the county by those who have worked with me. Also, through my participation and attendance at various public functions and meetings, I feel the farm community is convinced of my dedication to the office and reliability of my advice.

Mr. Kingsley defeated incumbent prosecutor Richard Gerhardt, a man with whom he used to work, in the primary election. Will his apparent "edge" in experience harm your chances?

Long
In reply to your question concerning Mr. Kingsley's experience, I feel that it is not a significant factor to merit consideration in this election. True, Mr. Kingsley was Assistant Prosecutor for a limited time, but my varied and well-rounded experience in business and the practice of law give me an edge in the ability to bring truly independent and mature judgement to the office. Remember if time in the office were the only factor, Mr. Gerhardt would be my opponent and not Mr. Kingsley.

If you agree that the public has become increasingly critical of the judicial system, would you please explain why and elaborate the steps you could take to restore our faith in the courts?

Kingsley
The public is critical of the judicial system mainly in the criminal area, which is one-half of the Prosecuting Attorney's job. The Prosecuting Attorney also has many civil duties that receive little or no public exposure. The major complaint is that the courts are too lenient on criminals.

The Prosecuting Attorney can play an active role in sentencing. While the judge has the last say in passing sentence, the pressure of the Prosecuting Attorney's office can be applied in the matter of public recommendations and sentencing. When a case is worthy of probation and probation is granted, the reason it was granted should also be made publicly known.

The Courts are open to the public scrutiny. The Prosecuting Attorney's office, working closely with the news media, can inform the electorate as to how and why a certain result happened in a criminal case. I propose a public information program which will make the details of any case available to the news media and the public, as well as lectures upon request on how our judicial systems functions.

Another complaint is plea bargaining. With the case load in Pickaway County, plea bargaining cannot be justified except to save a weak case. It is better to negotiate a plea of guilty to a lesser offense than let a defendant go free because of a technicality. Plea bargaining is generally a result of improper charging. I plan to reduce the number of cases in which plea bargaining is necessary by becoming personally involved in the original charging of local crime.

Long
The public has become increasingly critical of the judicial system for many reasons, but primarily because of their feeling that the system is tilted in favor of the criminal. This results from a long line of Supreme Court decisions expanding upon individual rights, but at the same time placing unrealistic restraints on law enforcement officials. The current Supreme Court has begun a retreat from some of these decisions which tilt the system back to one of fairness for both the individual defendant and the rights of the public. By each person in the system performing his duties in a manner prescribed by his oath of office and making himself available to the public to accept criticism as well as praise, we can restore this last confidence.

Kentuckians Hear Ford

COVINGTON, Ky (AP) — President Ford has pledged his support to a group of Harlan County, Ky. coal workers and to the coal industry in general.

"We can work together," President Ford told the group of 80 miners who drove here Thursday to attend a rally at Greater Cincinnati Airport. "Coal is important and you are important toward making this country secure."

The President took the miners' presence at the rally as a sign for optimism.

"If we can get Harlan and Pike counties, I don't see any reason why we can't get all of Kentucky," Ford told the several hundred well wishers who turned out for the rally.

New Book Rapped By 'Anastasia'

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — For 56 years, Mrs. John E. Manahan has said she is Anastasia, grand duchess of Russia. A new book contains arguments that could help her claim, but she's having none of it.

"No, no, I don't like it. It's a put-together mess," the 76-year-old woman said about the book by two British journalists.

One complaint against "The File on the Tsar" by Anthony Summers and Tom Mangold involves a photograph which she finds unflattering.

Other complaints involve the authors' case. She says all members of the royal family — not just the women — survived an effort to kill them in 1918. She has not said how.

The popular theory about the royal family's fate says all were slain in Ekaterinberg July 16, 1918. But the two journalists say they have new evidence that only the czar and perhaps his son died then. They say the czarina and four daughters survived at least six months.

The President earlier in the day had offered the benefits of nuclear power to neighboring Ohio. He claimed that the construction of a nuclear power plant at Portsmouth, Ohio would mean 6,000 more construction jobs in the southern portion of that state.

He told the miners however that nothing can beat coal as America's first line of defense against dependence on foreign sources of oil. He said that 100 per cent more coal must be mined by 1985 to continue the trend.

On Books And Activities At The Library

Whatever happened to October? Don't let November get away from you without a visit to the Pickaway County District Public Library for a look at the new titles being added to the shelves weekly. It's a good time to catch the reading habit!

Taylor Caldwell has a new novel off the press. "Ceremony Of The Innocent" is the story of Ellen Porter who lives in a small 19th century Pennsylvania-New York border town. It's the story of the men who are out to "get her." It's the story of a woman and a nation both betrayed by misplaced trusts.

Brian Moore's new novel is another variation on the "Madame Bovary" theme. "Doctor's Wife" is a portrait of a contemporary woman who submerges her talents and aspirations in a dull marriage.

"Dancing Aztecs" is another Donald Westlake novel. In this one, everybody hustles, everybody does the New York dance in search of a gold statue with emerald eyes.

A viral holocaust, a handful left alive. "Survivors" by Terry Nation is the thoroughly scary and thoroughly convincing story of a battle for life in an empty world.

"Lovers and Tyrants" by Francine du Plessix Gray is a sophisticated story following a woman's life from pre WW II France to modern America.

The structure of the catholic church is threatened with the theft of a volume from the Vatican Archives. "The Tetramachus Collection" by Philippe Van Rynd is filled with action, suspense and intrigue.

"The Shepherd" by Fredrick For-svthe is a Christmas story of power and beauty. It's the story of Christmas Eve, 1957 and a young RAF pilot in danger.

Wilbur Smith has come up with an adventure-suspense tale with an exotic setting and a tough, amusing and courageous character not soon to be forgotten. "The Eye Of The Tiger" will appeal to readers of modern mysteries.

Another espionage thriller from the pen of Len Deighton is titled "Catch A Fallen Spy." It follows a trail from the glare of the Sahara to the cool drawing rooms in Manhattan.

"The Peking Dimension" by Ned Calmer is a fast-paced novel of romance and suspense about the intersecting worlds of big-power diplomacy, global journalism, espionage and terror.

Explosive South Africa is the setting for "Rogue Eagle" by James McClure. The plot could be straight out of the current headlines.

Kidnap, fraud, and murder are all part of the latest Red Mask Mystery. "Buyer Beware" by John Lutz gives private investigator Alo Nudger a tough assignment.

Isaac Asimov adds "More Tales Of The Black Widowers" to his collection of beguiling teasers. It's pure to please fans of this popular writer.

"A Settling Of Accounts" by Carolyn Hart and "Our Man In Camelot" by Anthony Price are added titles to the mystery shelf.

Avalon readers will also find several new titles in their area.

For the ladies who remember Valentino, Alexander Walker's "Rudolph Valentino" should bring back memories. It's well illustrated with lots of photos of the handsome film hero.

Another name familiar to the world in a less glamorous way is Hitler! John Toland's lengthy 2 volume biography "Adolf Hitler" is a comprehensive look at this complex figure of history.

The latest from Time-Life's Old West series is "The Chroniclers." This series is always interesting and informative.

Allen Eckert is a writer of many talents. "The Silent Sky" is his account of the incredible extinction of the passenger pigeon.

If the big animals fascinate you, be sure to pick up "Elephants And Other Land Giants" from Time-Life.

Get to know your library. Be sure to vote on Nov. 2nd and then come in and browse around. You'll discover a whole new world!

Ohio Given Central Role In A-Power

CINCINNATI (AP) — President Ford has assigned Ohio a "central role" in providing fuel needed for nuclear power plants.

During a press conference before a massive rally here Thursday, President Ford localized a comprehensive statement on nuclear policy by emphasizing that the role of a proposed expansion of the Portsmouth, Ohio uranium enrichment plant would be "critical" to providing nuclear power.

"This plant will assure Ohio a central role in providing fuel for nuclear plants in the United States and around the world," Ford said during his speech.

Ford announced that the Portsmouth plant expansion, which is expected to cost $4.4 billion, will mean an additional 6,000 jobs for Southern Ohio. He said he had been assured that construction of that project could begin early next year.

Earlier estimates had placed the cost at $2.8 million and had forecast that the plant would provide an additional 5,000 jobs during construction.

Funding for the expansion is currently stalled in Congress.

The plan had been endorsed by the President during the primaries and during the recent televised debates, he re-affirmed his commitment to the plant at Portsmouth.

Currently there are three plants processing uranium in the country. They are the Goodyear plant at Pikeston, near Portsmouth; Oak Ridge, Tenn. and Paducah, Ky.

The new facility will be an expansion of the Pikeston facility.

Ford continued to press the importance his administration would place on keeping jobs in Ohio.

"Ohio needs more jobs like those which will be provided by the Portsmouth plant," he said.

He noted that B-1 bomber parts were made in General Electric Co. plants in Southern Ohio.

"It's not fair to send pilots out with weapons systems which are older than they are," said Ford, whose voice sometimes sounded hoarse from shouting to the crowds.

By 1849, there were 22 iron furnaces in operation in the Hanging Rock section of southern Ohio, 17 of them hot blast and five cold blast furnaces and much of their iron production was used in the foundries of Cincinnati.—AP

ISSUE 11

Only the voters in the Teays Valley School District will vote on Issue 11, a bond issue for construction, furnishing and equipping a seventh and eighth grade junior high school building, construction of sewage treatment facilities, rehabilitating, remodeling and furnishing elementary buildings at Ashville, Scioto, and Walnut and also the present high school building.

The amount of the bond issue is $4,750,000. The average millage required to pay off the financial obligation of the school will be 5.7 per each one dollar valuation for a period of 20 years.

ISSUE 12

This issue is for a tax renewal for the benefit of Commercial Point Village in the amount of four mills. It will be for a period of five years. Only the voters of the village will have this on the voting machines.

ISSUE 13

Issue 13 is a renewal of a tax for the benefit of Deercreek Twp. for the purpose of operating expenses of Springlawn Cemetery. It is for four-tenths of one mill for five years.

ISSUE 14

This issue is for the zoning ordinance in the village of Williamsport.

ISSUE 15

This issue is a new tax levy in the village of Tarlton for the purpose of current operating expenses and is in the amount of four tenths of one mill for a period of five years.

ISSUE 16

This issue is a tax renewal for the ISSUES 19, 20, 21, 22

The next four issues all pertain to local option elections pertaining to the sale of intoxicating beverages in Monroe, Pickaway, Scioto Twps. and precincts 4-B and 4-C in Circleville.

In Orient and Scioto, voters will be asked to determine "shall the sale of beer be permitted."

In Monroe, Pickaway and Circleville, there will be four issues on the ballot.

(1) Shall the sale of malt beverages, wine mixed beverages by the package be permitted;

(2) Shall on premises consumption be permitted;

(3) Shall sale of spiritous liquor by the glass be permitted;

(4) Shall a state liquor store be permitted.

"KEEP RADCLIFF SHERIFF"

To the Voters of Pickaway County,

During the past fifteen years while serving as a Senior Inspector for the U.S. Bureau of Prisons and as a Security Consultant for a private firm, I have been afforded opportunities to conduct evaluations of the operations of several hundred Sheriff's Departments throughout the United States. My experiences have included a cross section of departments ranging from large operations such as Los Angeles County, California to the small and medium size counties in the South and Eastern portions of the country.

Based upon these experiences and a working knowledge of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department, I would, without reservation, rate the Local Department among the most effective and efficiently operated in the United States when compared to departments of similar size.

Sheriff Dwight E. Radcliff has been recognized and honored for his job performance on both the State and National levels. He is resolutely committed to providing the very best quality of police services to the citizens of Pickaway County within the means available to him. His effectiveness as an administrator and law enforcement officer is frequently demonstrated through the apprehension of serious offenders. He has been highly successful in obtaining federal grants to support the purchase of much needed sophisticated equipment to cope with the present day criminal element.

Through background, training and experience, he is, by any comparison, the best qualified man to handle the demanding requirements of the office of Pickaway County Sheriff. He has earned my whole-hearted support and I urge Voters of Pickaway County to register their approval of this most capable and devoted enforcement officer on election day, November 2, 1976.

Pro Picker Sees Cowboys Over Redskins

NEW YORK (AP) — It will be perfectly understandable if late Saturday night, a solitary figure wearing a baseball cap and carrying an ice cream cone arrives at RFK Stadium in Washington, D.C. and does a rain dance on the 50-yard line.

He probably will have a hose with him, too. Coach George Allen, you see, leaves little to chance.

Allen, who finds solace in chocolate, vanilla and strawberry, has had help from the heavens the last two weeks when rain hit the nation's capital and the Redskins shut out Detroit and whipped St. Louis.

Are the Redskins mudders? Well, Allen did order the tarps removed from the field one hour before kickoff last Monday night. At the time, raindrops were falling on his head and there was a broad smile on his face.

The splashing never bothered Washington against either Detroit or St. Louis. Those two victories helped the 'Skins recover from consecutive dry-day losses to Chicago and Kansas City. Now they are 5-2 and tied for second place in the National Football Conference East, one game behind Dallas.

And guess who's coming to town Sunday?

Why it's those same Cowboys.

These two teams don't like each other anyway, so they hardly need the incentive of a race to inspire them for Sunday's showdown.

If Allen needs a sideline umbrella, it will be to protect him from the shower of points the Cowboys will score. That's the view of the Pro Picker who went 11-3 last week and is 67-30-1 for .691 this season.

The picks:

Dallas 37, Washington 21

With Roger Staubach hurting, the Cowboys may use Danny White at quarterback. They could use Tom Landry there and still win. Everybody knows that teams playing on Monday night have trouble recovering for the following Sunday. Especially old teams.

Cincinnati 23, Cleveland 17

The Browns could gain a share of first place in the AFC Central by knocking off their Ohio rivals. The Bengals like underdogs as well as anybody, but not these underdogs.

Oakland 34, Denver 17

The Raiders are due to break out. Last week's four-point victory over Green Bay was too close for comfort. Playing an AFC West opponent could be the catalyst they need.

Detroit 24, Green Bay 10

The Packers won the first meeting, but that was at home. Playing in Pontiac, Mich. gives the Lions the edge this time. So does new Coach Tommy Hudspeth, who is 2-1 since taking over at Detroit.

Kansas City 31, Tampa Bay 17

The last time the Chiefs came to Florida, they knocked off Miami. But the Dolphins were a much tougher problem than the Buccaneers should be. KC has the top-ranked offense and the NFL's most generous defense.

Minnesota 21, Chicago 17

The Vikings do just enough to win each week. That's fine until playoff time when they always seem to come up short. The Bears are simply victims of a vicious schedule.

New England 34, Miami 20

If lightweight Tampa Bay could score 20 points against that patchwork Dolphins defense, imagine what Steve Grogan will do to it.

New Orleans 24, Atlanta 6

The Saints shut out the Falcons the first time they met this season. And Atlanta seems to have gone downhill since then, losing four straight.

Buffalo 23, NY Jets 9

Gary Marangi takes over at quarterback for injured Joe Ferguson. His name sounds like a dance and that's just what he'll do over the listless Jets.

NY Giants 19, Philadelphia 7

A new coach and a new approach. Playing the Eagles doesn't hurt either as New York gains its first victory of the season.

Pittsburgh 30, San Diego 10

The Chargers have some key injuries and the Steelers, who can't afford any more losses, may have Terry Bradshaw back at quarterback.

San Francisco 24, St. Louis 20

The 49ers are for real and who knows how many Cardinals caught pneumonia in that Monday night morass in Washington?

Los Angeles 38, Seattle 17

The Rams have their pick of quarterbacks for a change. James Harris, Ron Jaworski and Pat Haden all are healthy and will get even healthier when they see the Seahawks.

Baltimore 33, Houston 14

Bert Jones becomes a primetime television star in the Monday night game.

Little Tigers, Vikings Play To 6-6 Deadlock

Circleville and Teays Valley eighth grade football teams both remained unbeaten as they battled to a 6-6 tie Thursday at the Vikings field.

Stuart Payne scored for Circleville on a short run in the second quarter and Mike Roberts galloped 50 yards to even the score late in the fourth period.

Circleville is now 5-0-1 and will host Washington C. H. 4:30 p.m. Thursday. Teays Valley has finished its season with a record of 4-0-1.

LE Volleyballers Upend Indians

Logan Elm's girls varsity volleyball team bounced back after dropping the opening game to defeat visiting Canal Winchester, 14-16, 15-7, 15-6, in a Mid State League clash Thursday.

April Wilamowski turned in an outstanding offense performance while Patti Larson, Diane Weaver, Beth Bell and Anette Roof also did some fine offensive work.

Krista Gifford, Anette Roof, Diane Weaver, Abby Rife, Debbie Larson and Melanie Whitsed came up with good defensive efforts.

The Braves are now 7-6 for the season, 4-5 in the league, and will host Westfall 6 p.m. Monday.

Willie's Dillies

By BILL MCGAFFNEY
Herald Sports Editor

As the old saying goes — "The rich get richer and the poor get poorer" — this has once again broken into the spotlight among the "play for pay boys."

With Catfish Hunter being a prime example last year with his million dollar deal with the Yankees, the Reds are now holding their breath as Don Gullett played out his option last year and will be on the open market — probably looking for the streets paved with gold.

Now, Johnny Bench has come out with a statement that if the Reds don't start paying some money, some more boys will be looking for the promised land.

This comes from a guy who taps the till for $200,000 a year — In our book this seems to be some money — But, he probably has a few more expenses than we do.

Did you ever stop to think how many years you will have to work to make $200,000? Of course these guys have to work from March until October for this kind of money — In our old neighborhood this was called "crying with a loaf of bread under your arm."

We think that everyone should get his just rights but this is now getting ridiculous.

With these guys becoming free agents and open to the highest bidder, the whole world of sports is beginning to falter and it is going to end up with only a few teams with money dominating the sports. They are going to buy championships and the poorer teams are just going along for the ride.

What used to be called a sport is now a business — And the fans are going to find out they are the stockholders when they have to pay more for their tickets — But they will never receive any of the dividends.

Our "fearless" forecast — The Tigers will be out to "bounce back" in the Rubber Bowl . . . The Braves will take the bite out of the Bulldogs . . . Vikings will be tough on the Rough Riders . . . Mustangs will stampe over the Warriors . . . In the big one at Cincinnati, with a healthy Pruitt the Browns could do it.

Until next time, have a nice day-be a good sport.

Ball State Faces Northern Illinois

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Dave McClain, the coach of Mid-American football leader Ball State, puts stock in comparative scores, a reason he is worried on the eve of a full schedule of conference games Saturday.

The Cardinals play their first MAC opponent in five weeks, furnishing homecoming opposition for Northern Illinois.

"Illinois State beat us and Northern Illinois beat Illinois State," said

McClain. "I'm sure they will be emotional and we have always had trouble playing at Northern Illinois."

The game is pivotal for both schools, two of the five contenders for the title already abdicated by three-time defending champion Miami.

Ball State, with two MAC victories, is the only undefeated team inside the conference. Bowling Green and Ohio University share second place at 4-1 and No. 4 Central Michigan is 2-1.

Even Northern Illinois, seventh with an 0-1 record, is alive, leading Coach Pat Cupepper to say: "If we beat them we're right back in the race."

The other key MAC games Saturday send Central Michigan to Bowling Green and Ohio to Western Michigan (3-2). Miami (1-2) is at Toledo (0-5) and Eastern Michigan (0-3) at Kent State (2-2).

Ball State and Northern Illinois are beset with different problems.

The leaders are uncertain they will have star quarterback Art Yaroch, idled last week with injuries as the Cardinals whipped Appalachian State 20-7.

The Huskies simply have an entire offensive problem. They took a 54-0 blanking from Southern Illinois last week and have mustered only 23 points in six games this year.

Bowling Green Coach Don Nehlen, who shunned a certain field goal with 20 seconds left in a 9-7 loss at Miami last week, said of Central Michigan, "We just seem to catch every team at the wrong time. We're the big game on their schedule. They don't play Miami or Ball State."

Central Michigan will send the conference's No. 1 total defense against Bowling Green, the leading attack in the MAC.

The Ohio-Western Michigan game is another match of strengths. The Bobcats are among the nation's top 15 teams in total defense and scoring defense. The Broncos, meanwhile, rank eighth nationally in rushing offense.

Ohio's main individual problem will be containing Western Michigan's Jerome Persell, the nation's leading scorer and second in the country in all-purpose running and rushing.

Tiger Girls Win Match

Circleville's girls varsity volleyball team pulled a come-from-behind win over visiting Grove City, 13-15, 15-11, 15-7, Thursday.

"We played well to gain the victory," Circleville coach Joy O'Brien stated. "Although we didn't display the consistency that we would have liked to, it was our best effort in our last four or five matches. Our set game was extremely good."

The Tigers had a team percentage of 78 per cent on their serves with Sue Stevenson, Brenna Lintner, Natalie Martin, Wanda Boyd, and Sue Frericks leading the way.

It was an 80 per cent team defense with Natalie Martin, Brenna Lintner, Sue Stevenson and Wanda Boyd turning in great performances.

Michelle Nolan and Sue Stevenson were 100 per cent on their sets while Natalie Martin and Brenna Lintner combined for 75 per cent on the sets.

Grove City opened the first game with 10 straight points and although Circleville cut the gap to one point they just couldn't close it. Brenna Lintner's seven straight points in the second game put it away while Natalie Martin and Sue Stevenson combined to give the Tigers a 9-0 lead in the third game.

The Red and Black are now 10-2 for the season and lead the South Central Ohio League with a 4-0 mark.

The Tiger reserves ran their record to 9-3 with a 15-6, 15-11 win over the visitors.

Tammy Tussing, Karen Lundberg, Sue Uland, and Penny Perkins paced the offense while Julie Schneider, Cathy Price, Karen Lundberg, Sue Uland and Cindy Johnson turned in five defensive efforts.

Both the varsity and reserves will be at Madison Plains 6:30 p.m. Monday.

Dick Anderson Splits With Player Leader

BALTIMORE (AP) — Dick Anderson, president of the National Football League Players Association, has split publicly with executive director Ed Garvey in a personal letter to player representatives of the 26 NFL teams.

"I really believe that we will never be able to achieve an agreement with the owners that would be acceptable to Ed Garvey," Anderson wrote. "He wants too many things from them that they will never give up."

Michigan Takes On Crippled Minnesota

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Top-ranked Michigan takes on a crippled Minnesota Saturday in the 39th renewal of their battle for the Little Brown Jug.

The rivalry, which will be televised on the East and West coasts, started in 1903 when the Wolverines forgot their water jug after a game in Minneapolis. When Michigan Coach Fielding Yost asked that the jug be returned, he was told, in effect, "Come and get it."

The Wolverines have won the Jug 36 times, Minnesota 19 times and twice the game has been tied. Minnesota owns the longest winning streak in the series — nine games from 1934 through 1942 — but Michigan, 7-0, is a heavy favorite to post its eighth straight victory in the series Saturday at Ann Arbor.

"We'll be ready," Minnesota Coach Cal Stoll said. "We're not traveling that far just to show up."

But what kind of a chance does Minnesota, with a 5-2 record its best start since 1967, have against the Wolverines?

"This Minnesota team is a squad that must play healthy and with great emotions," Stoll said, noting that 16 of his players are either out with injuries or playing hurt.

Another ABC regional telecast will pit 10th-ranked Missouri against 16th-ranked Oklahoma State.

The Missouri Tigers include fourth-ranked Southern California, eighth-ranked Ohio State and ninth-rated Nebraska among their victims this season. But they also have lost twice. Oklahoma State, upset victors over 13th-ranked Oklahoma last week, has a 4-2 record.

Other regional telecasts will have Wyoming, 6-1, at Colorado State, 4-3; Kentucky, 4-3, at fifth-ranked Maryland, 7-0, and Texas A&M, 5-2, at Southern Methodist, 2-5.

In other games matching ranked teams, 15th-rated Texas travels to sixth-ranked Texas Tech, No. 18 Mississippi State is at No. 17 Alabama, No. 20 Cincinnati is at No. 7 Georgia while No. 13 Oklahoma is at No. 19 Colorado.

Syracuse visits No. 2 Pittsburgh, No. 3 UCLA is at Washington, California is at No. 4 Southern California, Cincinnati goes to No. 7 Georgia, No. 8 Ohio State is at Indiana, No. 9 Nebraska travels to Kansas, Navy plays No. 11 Notre Dame at Cleveland, Auburn is at No. 12 Florida, Rice is at No. 14 Arkansas.

Braves Reserve Spikers Capture League Crown

The Logan Elm girls reserve volleyball topped visiting Canal Winchester in two straight games, 15-5, 15-10, to wrap up the Mid State League championship with a perfect 9-0 record in league play.

"Everyone played and they all did a tremendous job to gain the win and the title," Logan Elm coach Kathi Thompson stated. "They have been a winner because they are a dedicated team and made up their minds that they were going to win the Championship and they did. They are just a fine bunch of young girls who play together as a team and are completely unselfish," coach Thompson commented.

Pam Huffman, Renee Cavender, Marie Goodchild, Brenda Bell and Sherri Thomas led the offense while Carla Roof, Karen McDevitt, Carol Dittinger, Linda Jacobs and Susan DeLong were outstanding on defense.

The win also gave the Braves a 12-1 record for the season.

2 Old Pros Pace Bengals Defensive Line

CINCINNATI (AP) — A pair of old pros who should be past their prime are kicking up their heels and putting new teeth in the Cincinnati Bengals' suddenly-stout defense.

Bob Brown and Coy Bacon, two former All-Pro performers now in their mid-30's, have teamed up with a ball-hawking secondary and the National Football League's youngest linebacking corps to give the Bengals their best defense in the club's nine-year history.

Brown, picked up on waivers a year ago, has helped seal up the middle against the run while Bacon, acquired in an off-season trade, has been a terror as a pass rusher.

"This is the best defense since I've been here—and the pass rush has been the big reason," said cornerback Lemar Parrish, a seven year veteran. "It has made all the difference in the world."

Cincinnati has taken over the American Football Conference lead in total defense and ranks second only to San Francisco in the NFL.

The Bengals, who took over the AFC Central Division lead last week by throttling potent Houston 27-7 for a 5-2 record, train their new found fury on the Cleveland Browns Sunday.

It should be an interesting battle of wills—and front walls.

"Cleveland's quarterbacks have been sacked only seven times all year," said Cincinnati Coach Bill Johnson. "They have a very good offensive line."

Joe Namath led the National Football League in interceptions last season with 28 of his passes falling into opponent's hands.

OSU, Cincinnati Face Tough Foes

By GEORGE STRODE

AP Sports Writer

Ohio State and Cincinnati, Ohio's two delegates to college football's Top Twenty national rankings, face important road tests Saturday.

The eighth-ranked Buckeyes, locked in another struggle with No. 1-rated Michigan for the Big Ten Conference championship, visit an up-and-down Indiana team, a 35-0 victim of the Wolverines last week.

Cincinnati, undefeated in six games counting a Southwest Louisiana forfeit, risks its new stature of No. 20 nationally at Georgia, seventh in the nation.

Woody Hayes and Tony Mason have nothing but praise for this week's opponents.

"The Hoosiers have their best team in several years. We're not unaware of that at all," said Hayes, his Ohio State sharing the conference lead at 4-0 with Michigan.

Indiana (2-2) is in a three-way tie for fourth place in the Big Ten with Illinois and Purdue.

Once-beaten Georgia scares the colorful Mason, Cincinnati's mentor. "Georgia," he said, "I don't want to talk about them, they're so good."

An upset over the Bulldogs would jump Cincinnati's appeal as a major postseason bowl candidate.

In the Mid-American Saturday, conference-leading Ball State (2-0) plays at Northern Illinois, Ohio University (4-1) at Western Michigan, Central Michigan at Bowling Green (4-1), Miami at Toledo and Eastern Michigan at Kent State. The Falcons and Bobcats share second place.

Independent action has Akron at Marshall, Youngstown at Wayne State, Ashland awaiting Hillsdale and Kenyon home for Canisius in the afternoon and Oberlin at Duquesne and Central State at Nebraska-Omaha at night.

In the Ohio Conference, the Blue Division lead is at stake when Marietta visits Baldwin-Wallace at night. The two share the top spot at 2-0. Mount Union is at Denison and Ohio Wesleyan at Otterbein, night, in other Blue Division games.

Muskingum and Wittenberg are expected to collect their third Red Division victories and remained tied for the lead. Muskingum goes to Ohio Wesleyan and Wittenberg plays visiting Capital. The other Red Division match sends Wooster to Heidelberg.

It's showdown time in the Hoosier-Buckeye Conference. Hanover, the winner the last three seasons, supplies the homecoming opposition for league-leading Wilmington. The Quakers are 4-0-1 in the league to second-place Hanover's 4-1-0 mark.

Other H-BC games are Anderson at Findlay, Defiance at Bluffton, night, and Taylor at Manchester.

In the Presidents' Conference, Case Reserve plays at John Carroll and Hiram at Carnegie-Mellon.

Beulah Park Sets Top Race Saturday

Saturday is a big day at Beulah Park with the 12th running of the $50,000 Kindergarten Stakes.

Commissioner Gabe, with Terry Meyers up, is the favorite in the nine-horse field over the 1 1/16 mile. Challenge The Lark is also a co-favorite.

Beginning Monday, post time will be 1 p.m.

Bill Kollar Sidelined With Football Injuries

CINCINNATI (AP) — Bill Kollar, the Cincinnati Bengals designated pass rusher, will be sidelined for Sunday's National Football League meeting with the Cleveland Browns.

Kollar, one of the Bengals quicker defensive linemen, is out of action with an injured foot which was stepped on in last week's 27-7 victory over the Houston Oilers.

Johnny Bench Sees 3 More Catching Years

NEW YORK (AP) — Old baseball catchers don't die, they just waste away, says Johnny Bench, who figures he will be lucky if he reaches his goal of wearing the tools of ignorance until he's 32 years old.

That gives him three more years to go.

"The life of a catcher in the majors should be about half that of an outfielder," the AllStar receiver of the champion Cincinnati Reds insists. "The body takes a tremendous beating. It just wears out."

"I look at the records of guys like Bill Dickey and Al Lopez and wonder how they did it. Maybe it's the longer seasons now, the air travel and the added pressures."

Dickey caught 17 years with the New York Yankees, starting in 1928, while Lopez toiled 19 years with Brooklyn, Boston and Pittsburgh in the National League before finishing up with the Cleveland Indians.

Bench was in New York Thursday to receive a sports car from Sport Magazine for being voted the Most Valuable Player of the 1976 World Series. After a disappointing season because of an ailing shoulder, he batted .533 and hit two home runs in the final game in the Reds' four-game sweep of the New York Yankees.

"When I broke into the majors in 1967, I figured I would be able to catch until I was 30," Bench said. "I thought by that time, if I stayed in baseball, I would have to look around for a softer position."

"Now that most of my physical problems seem to be clearing up, I hope to stay around until I am 32. I will have to make a decision then."

Bench was asked if he or Manager Sparky Anderson had considered the feasibility of moving him to another position.

"Well, you can eliminate the outfield, shortstop, second base and pitching," Bench replied. "That leaves first base and third. Tony Perez is pretty well fixed at first with Dan Driessen as a backup, and who's going over to third base and tell Pete Rose I want his job. Not me."

Bench's doting mother, Katie, said in Oklahoma City during the summer that the punishment of catching was taking such a toll on her son's physical condition that he should retire in two years.

"His shoulder is just crushed from years of catching—his whole body is wearing out," Mrs. Bench said. "Ten years of catching is like 20 years of playing in the outfield."

"I told mom to say that," Johnny said with a broad smile when he was reminded of the comment. A powerfully looking figure at 6-foot-1 and 197 pounds with an arm like a cannon, the Reds' catcher looks like anything but a basket case.

"I've had my problems," Bench said, "but I was really encouraged by my comeback in the World Series. I am looking forward to a good year in 1977 and I hope I can play until I am 32."

In December, 1972, Bench underwent surgery for a benign lesion on his right lung. He has had the normal run of injuries for catchers, stubbed fingers and cracked knuckles, but his miseries seemed to escalate during the past year.

He underwent an operation for a cartilage in his left shoulder last winter. He suffered a sprained thumb on his left hand in spring training and got a whack on the back of his hand from a foul ball.

His other shoulder—his right—became inflamed early in the season from a cartilage and he suffered agonizing spasms in his back. It was said that surgery might be necessary again after this season.

"I was really in pain," Bench said, although he managed to get in 134 games. "It was so intense I couldn't start my swing quickly enough and my batting suffered. I sat out spells of five games off and on."

"With everybody else—George Foster, Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Tony Perez—all hitting, I was going along with the snowball. But I was very distressed. I felt I wasn't carrying my load."

After the All-Star game in July, Bench took seven cortisone shots and, at the suggestion of the trainer, began gulping salt tablets—eight a day.

"The pain suddenly went away," he said. "I found my batting stroke just before the Series. If I had had a great season and fallen down in the World Series, I would have been unhappy about it. As it is, I had a bad season but a good World Series. It makes me feel great."

Jerry McGee Caves Stop Knicks, 114-90 Seeks Win At Pensacola

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Jerry McGee is building a new home in Ohio, which should be ready for occupancy in a couple of weeks.

"It's got a trophy room in it," McGee said, and grinned. "And I've only got one trophy. It sure would be nice to get another one."

He took a step in that direction with a four-under-par 67 that gave McGee a share of the first-round lead Thursday in the $125,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament, the event that last year provided him with the only trophy he now owns.

"After playing out here on the tour as long as I have, I didn't think it would happen, but I was really nervous on the first tee," McGee said. "I've never been a defending champion before."

"There's a lot of pride out here on this tour we play. I really wanted to play well. It was awfully important to me. I didn't putt particularly well, but I played that last nine about as well as I can play."

"And I will play well the rest of the way. If I can get that putter rolling a little, I will be in the hunt."

McGee, who missed only one green and didn't have a five on his card, played his back nine in 32 — and had to do it to hold off the afternoon challenges of Tommy Aaron, John Schlee and Bob Murphy, who matched McGee's effort on the 6,549-yard Pensacola Country Club course and took a share of the top spot.

Expensive Pigeon

STOW, Ohio (AP) — With two other men, Richard Murphy bought a pigeon for $1,200 recently.

The pigeon, named "Big Red," is the second best racing pigeon in America, the grandson of Belgian champion Motta, which reportedly won $90,000 in European racing events.

Murphy, a businessman and member of a pigeon racing club, plans to use the bird for breeding.

The $1,200 was the highest price paid for a pigeon at the auction of 35 pigeons to raise money for nursing scholarships.

The Travers is the oldest stakes race in the country. It was named for William R. Travers, Saratoga Assn. president during the first meeting in 1863.

Before meeting the New York Knicks, the Cleveland Cavaliers gave them great respect.

"We figured the Knicks were the best team in the league ... we lived in fear of their fast break," said Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch.

After beating the Knicks, the respect was reversed.

"They didn't allow us to run as well as we did in the past," said New York Coach Red Holzman after his team lost a 114-90 National Basketball Association decision to the Cavs Thursday night. "We didn't play well and they did. They are a good ball club."

Good preparation was the key to Cleveland's victory.

"We had to stop their fast break," said Fitch, "... and we did. They just got one out of their system. We played well with the lead tonight — unlike our first two games."

The loss was the first after three victories for the Knicks while the unbeaten Cavaliers won their third game.

In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics whipped the Buffalo Braves 112-105, the Denver Nuggets stopped the Milwaukee Bucks 119-100, and the Golden State Warriors trimmed the Portland Trail Blazers 112-92.

Bobby Smith scored 23 points and Campy Russell added 18, leading Cleveland's victory.

Charley Gogolak kicked 27 field goals in 45 attempts during his football playing career at Princeton.

Mount Union Seeks Cross Country Title

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP) — Coach Jim Wuske is apprehensive his Mount Union powerhouse can win a third straight Ohio Conference cross country title Saturday at the Delaware Country Club.

"We'll both have our work cut out for us," Wuske said of the repeat chances of the Purple Raiders and their individual ace, Rich Kempe.

Mount Union has won nine of the last 12 league cross country crowns, but dropped its first two meets this fall.

Plants And Rainwater

LOMBARD, Ill. (AP) — Rainwater, or water low in minerals, is best for house plants, according to the Water Quality Assn.

Where tap water supplies have a high mineral content, the WQA recommends occasional heavy watering of house plants to flush away any salts that may collect in the soil.

Limited quantities of mineral-free water for house plants may be collected from roof runoff, or can be produced with a small reverse osmosis or demineralization unit.

Any veteran desiring further information concerning his Veterans Administration Benefits should contact the Veterans Service Officer at 219 South Court Street.

(Q.) I am a World War II veteran with a Service Connected Disability rated at 30 per cent. I've heard nothing from the Veterans Administration in the past 15 years?

(A.) Any veteran with any percentage of a disability that hasn't had an examination in several years, or feels his conditions has become worse since his last exam, should drop by the Veterans Service Office and discuss the action necessary to file for an increase in his or her rating.

(Q.) I'm a 40 per cent Service Connected Disabled Veteran. Am I entitled to any additional benefits?

(A.) No, but a new law has just passed and a veteran at 50 per cent Service Connected Disability or more, can receive free Medical Treatment, for all disabilities — anything — with the exception of Dental Treatment.

(Q.) Is it necessary for everyone to complete the Annual Income Questionnaire?

(A.) No. Only those veterans and widows who are receiving benefits for Total Non Service Connected reasons.

(Q.) I received an Income Questionnaire with my check this month. What should I do with it?

(A.) Your Veterans Service Officer will be most glad to help you complete this questionnaire. If you would try to complete it yourself, and you make a mistake, it could result in your checks being held up until the error was corrected. Your Veterans Service Officer knows how to complete this form properly.

(Q.) I desire to file a claim with the VA for Total Non Connected Pension. Does my wife's income from employment count against me?

(A.) Your wife's income from employment will not count against you. However, if she has income from any other source in addition to her income from employment, then that income from other sources will count against you.

(Q.) I desire to file a claim with the VA for Total Non Connected Pension. Does my wife's income from employment count against me?

(A.) Your wife's income from employment will not count against you. However, if she has income from any other source in addition to her income from employment, then that income from other sources will count against you.

Pollution Standards Relaxed

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Six West Virginia power plants will be belching more sulphur oxides into the air under a new state Air Pollution Control Commission ruling.

The commission approved 3-2 Wednesday a relaxed set of emission standards designed to allow the use of high-sulphur northern West Virginia coal in state power plants.

APCC Director Carl Beard blamed the action on Ohio's lower emission standards. "I think it's a capitulation to Ohio coal interests and Ohio utilities," he said.

Gov. Arch A. Moore Jr. had earlier called for such a relaxation of air quality standards. He met with members of the commission just prior to the meeting Wednesday.

"He wanted to be sure, I guess, that we were going to do it," said APCC Chairman Adonis Hunt.

Moore had complained that some West Virginia power plants were not able to burn West Virginia coal, even though plants across the Ohio River could because of the Buckeye State's standards.

The move to relax the law was opposed by Agriculture Commissioner Gus Douglass and state Health Director N.H. Dyer, both members of the commission.

"I don't quite understand how we can approve a concept," said Dyer prior to casting his vote against the relaxation.

APCC Director Carl Beard said the action was only temporary, pointing out that a complete restructuring of the sulphur emission standards would be made within the next six to eight months.

TIME TO CHANGE TO HIRSCH STATE REPRESENTATIVE

POL. AD. HIRSCH FOR REP. COMM.

Woman Hikes 2,600 Miles

ACTON, Calif. (AP) — Teddie Boston is the perfect answer to the question of what kind of 49-year-old woman would hike the rugged 2,600-mile Pacific Crest trail by herself.

Wiry, weathered and grinning, Teddie looks like she would be out of place without her 60-pound backpack, hiking boots and cutoff shorts. She swings the pack up easily and falls into an unhurried but long stride that bespeaks an adventurer much more used to country trails than city sidewalks.

But that isn't really so.

Teddie is a mother of four from Anaheim, Calif. And until May 1, when she set off from Canada at the beginning of the trail, Teddie worked for 18 years for the Anaheim School District purchasing department — a job she lost recently when a local paper printed a story about her expedition.

The district had given Teddie five months of sick leave. Looking anything but ill, Teddie conceded she had fudged slightly — "Well, I told them I was out here to settle a case of jangled nerves."

While admitting they miss their mom, Teddie's college-aged children are excited about the trip. So is her husband.

At one point on her journey, Teddie's 20-year-old son Craig and 28 of his friends arranged a surprise greeting in a desolate desert town, just to cheer her on.

Pre-designated stops in towns along the route allow her to pick up food packages and mail — and to telephone family and friends. Her phone calls include her relatives in Maine, where she was born.

Mostly a weekend and vacation hiker, she isn't really sure why she tackled the five-month project of making her way on foot along the Cascade and Sierra Nevada ranges from Canada to Mexico.

During the long trek, her answers to "Why?" ranged from, "Because it's there" to "I don't know."

But as she talked about the trip, only 400 miles from completion when she stopped briefly for mail in the northern Los Angeles County mountain town of Acton, more answers emerged.

"The Pacific Crest Trail needed my footprints. Everyone is pretty sure it's the first time a woman's done it alone," she said.

She hasn't been entirely alone. People abound on certain sections of the trail. In fact, Teddie met 134 persons on one seven-mile stretch — "the John Muir Freeway with no passing lane," she said, laughing. But another stretch of the trail saw three days go by with no other hikers in sight.

On one long haul, she played leap frog with two Yale students. They camped together at night, but she left them behind early each morning. They walked faster, so at some point during each day they caught up with Teddie once again.

The two said they were "following

Truck Driver Wins Top Lottery Prize

CLEVELAND (AP) — Winning $250,000 in the Ohio Lottery Thursday means a new car and a new dining room set for Harold R. Muir of Cincinnati.

Muir, who took the top prize in the Pot O' Gold game, said he would keep his job as a short-haul truck driver. The dining set, he explained, will be for his wife Betty.

In the lottery's Double Play game, John Hein of Dayton won $52,000 and he said he will take a week off because of his good fortune.

"I never won anything like this before," Hein said. "I'm tickled to death."

He and his wife Rose have planned a trip to Florida "and maybe Hawaii," he said. "We were there two years ago on our 50th anniversary."

"And all my grandchildren said we're going to have a big, fine Christmas," he shouted, explaining there were eight of the youngsters.

Hein said he made his living by part-time barbering, "and I play golf and bowl and dance and play the organ — and everything else."

Gerta F. Schmidt of Fairfield won $25,000 in the Pot O' Gold game. Other winners were Dewey E. Dixon, Marion, $10,900; George Hill, Norton, $10,300; Lawrence H. Snyder, Oberlin, $8,700; and Mel Mikols, $8,600.

In the Double Play game, Lillian F. Jones of Cincinnati won $26,000 and Stanley Dzienny of Toledo won $10,000.

Chilly Air Moves South

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cold air spread into the Southeast overnight, bringing unseasonably cold temperatures to Georgia and the Carolinas. Northern Florida and eastern Alabama also felt the cold.

Even before midnight, temperatures in most parts of Georgia were in the 30s. In North Carolina, a number of towns reported 20s. A hard freeze warning was in force for all of North Carolina except along the coast.

However, the only really inclement weather in the nation was concentrated over the southern Rockies and west Texas. Some snow was still falling this morning in southwest Texas and parts of the Texas panhandle as well as the higher mountains of southern New Mexico.

Hazardous driving conditions continued to plague the area. A little snow also fell in southeast Colorado.

The light rain or drizzle that reached most of Texas Thursday extended into western Oklahoma and south central Kansas today.

The only other precipitation was light rain over the Pacific Northwest.

Bost, Radcliff Are Candidates For Pickaway Sheriff

One of the most interesting races on the local scene Tuesday will be the election of either Dwight Radcliff, the incumbent sheriff, or John Bost, his former deputy.

The 44-year old Radcliff is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Radcliff, 359 Northridge Road. He and his wife Betty have three children, Vicki, a sophomore at Ohio State University; Dug, who will attend Purdue University in January; and Rob, a ninth grader at Circleville Junior High School.

After graduating from Circleville High School in 1950, Radcliff worked as a commercial photographer for three years. He was a deputy sheriff for eight years, and after working as a sales representative for Kenny Hannan Ford Inc. for four years, has served as Sheriff since 1965.

On June 30, 1964, Radcliff completed a three week course of training in Photography, Firearms, Identification, Criminal Investigation, and allied Police Subjects conducted in accordance with Section 109-56 of the Revised Code of Ohio at the Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation Police Academy in London. During the years of 1964-1960 he attended many seminars conducted by the Ohio BCI, FBI, and Buckeye State Sheriff's Association, covering all phases of local, state, and federal law enforcement.

Radcliff graduated from the 79th Session - FBI National Academy, a 12-week course in May, 1967 at Washington D.C. and Quantico, Virginia. After completion of the FBI National Academy, he automatically received the Ohio Peace Officers Training Council Certificate.

He is a Graduate of the Hamilton County, Ohio Coroners Homicide School in 1972, and attended a one week refresher course at the FBI Academy in Quantico, Virginia in December, 1974, and a Seminar on Homicide and Suspicious Deaths, Wright State University, Detroit, Michigan in early 1976.

Radcliff has also completed various seminars on Administration, Budget, Firearms, Drugs, and other civil and criminal related law enforcement subjects.

He is a member of Pickaway County Farm Bureau; Pickaway Lodge No. 23 Free and Accepted Masons, Circleville Lodge No. 20 Royal Arch Masons, Tyrian Council No. 60 Royal and Select Masters, Scioto Commandery No. 35 Knights Templar, Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite, Valley of Columbus, Aladdin Temple Shrine. Past President of Pickaway Shrine Club. Past member of Provost Unit, Aladdin Temple Shrine; Circleville Chapter No. 90, Order of Eastern Star; Circleville Lodge No. 77 B.P.O. Elks; Circleville Aerie No. 685, Fraternal Order of Eagles; Pickaway Farmers and Sportsmen's Association; Associate Member of Pickaway County Trustees and Clerks Association; Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club; Buckeye State Sheriff's Association, served on official board in 1967 and went into all chairs, including President in 1975; Presently serving second year on the official board of directors (and the only Ohio Sheriff on the National Board); FBI National Academy Associates, State and National Chapters; Honorary member of Pickaway County Road Patrol; Honorary member Pickaway County React and Rescue; and Community United Methodist Church.

During seven years as Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff Radcliff served on Communications Committee, Legislative Committee and Training Committee of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association. And during twelve years as Pickaway County Sheriff, he served on Ohio Sheriff's Uniform and Car Marking Commission, 1972-1974, appointed by Democrat Governor John Gilligan. He served during those years as Chairman of the Committee and was reappointed by Republican Governor James A. Rhodes in 1975 and still serving on the three man commission.

Bost, 30, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Bost. He and his wife, Karen, are the parents of two children, Tamara, 10, and Heather, 3.

Since resigning from the city police department to seek the office of sheriff, he has devoted all his time to the campaign.

Bost is a graduate of Amanda-Clearcreek High School and has completed the Ohio Police Officers Training School, Communication School, riot training, the FBI Seminar, and 40 hours of schooling on the new Ohio Revised Criminal Code.

DWIGHT E. RADCLIFF

He is a member of the Ross County Law Enforcement Association, Masonic Lodge 23, the Pickaway Plains Sertoma Club, and attends the First Church of Christ and Christian Union.

Bost is a former member of the Buckeye State Sheriff's Association and the Circleville Police Lodge.

Following are the candidates' answer to questions posed them by The Herald:

Radcliff
I am a career law enforcement officer. Having grown up in a law enforcement family, I chose to make this my profession. Prior to becoming a sworn Deputy Sheriff I served without pay as the department photographer. Having served from September, 1953 until January of 1961 as a Pickaway County Deputy Sheriff, I was then elected to and assumed the office of Pickaway County Sheriff in 1965, the office to which I seek re-election at this time.

More so than ever, law enforcement is a profession. I have set certain standards and goals concerning policy and procedure, which have brought much respect to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department during my tenure in office. Hard work based on common sense, tempered with fairness, has been my goal, and I expect to continue this philosophy.

Bost
I feel it is time for a change in the office of Sheriff of Pickaway County. Having served the citizens of Pickaway County as a deputy sheriff and Circleville policeman, I found, in the field of law enforcement, much personal satisfaction.

I feel any individual who has a love for his chosen profession sets certain standards and goals to reach for. To be elected Sheriff, to further serve and protect its people is what I hope to accomplish.

If opposed, what makes you think you are a better choice than your opponent for the people of Pickaway County?

Radcliff
I stand strongly on my past record as a professional law enforcement officer. My qualifications as Deputy Sheriff and Sheriff for the past eighteen years are of utmost importance to the citizens of Pickaway County. As Sheriff, it is my duty to possess certain qualifications as an administrator as well as a law enforcement officer. I have made every effort to see that the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department has gained the respect that a Professional Police Agency demands.

Bost
I feel there is need for a change in the office of Sheriff. I am not a career politician. I am not in this race to build an empire, but to make sure all of us get better protection and the best possible service for our tax dollars.

November 2nd is our chance to demonstrate that "Mr. & Mrs. Taxpayer" can override the Political Machine, and launch a new era of efficiency and unity among other law enforcement agencies in Pickaway County. United we stand: Divided we fall.

I feel I am justly qualified for the office of Sheriff. I have worked in all the areas of the Sheriff's department, as jailer, dispatcher, and road patrolman.

If elected, what are your goals?

Radcliff
As Sheriff of Pickaway County I have doubled the staff and tripled the number of patrol cars in our fleet. I have obtained in excess of $285,000.00 in Federal Matching Funds to secure needed modern equipment for the Department. I have seen that all calls for service have been answered as promptly as possible, regardless of nature. I have seen that my patrol units are in all areas of the County patrolling at all times to meet the demands of our citizens. If re-elected to the important office of Sheriff of Pickaway County, I will continue to give the citizens of Pickaway County the same professional law enforcement that they have received from this Department in the past during my tenure as Sheriff. I will work to continue to further obtain necessary funds to better serve the citizens, as well as to meet the demands as set down by the Courts. I shall continue to make every effort to obtain and retain the best qualified deputies for my staff. When available, I shall take every step to obtain Federal matching funds to secure new and modern equipment to fight crime in today's modern society. I shall continue to enroll members of my Department in the various different law enforcement related schools to better their education so they may be more knowledgeable to meet the modern crime problems.

Bost
If elected to the office of Sheriff of Pickaway County, my goals are many.

To enforce an open-door policy at all times; to have one law for rich and poor; to work to improve present working hours and benefits for the department staff; to offer more protection and better patrolling of county and township roads for your same tax dollars; to give quicker response to calls; to achieve total effort by all law agencies to work together for the people of the county; to work for more emergency squad service in areas with none; and to fight to clear up the drug problems in the county. If elected Sheriff, there would always be goals to reach and accomplish. By giving me your support during my campaign as well as your vote on November 2nd., we will get the job done.

Do you plan any changes in personnel or policy if elected?

Radcliff
In a law enforcement agency, one never knows what policies and procedures may need to be changed to meet the problems that face the agency. I have no plans to do anything other than that which will better the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department for the citizens of Pickaway County. I will continue to provide services to all who request them and will continue to meet the demands as set by the Courts and to work closely with the Pickaway County Commissioners in securing the funds to provide the needed man power in the various sections of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department in order to obtain and retain the best qualified deputies for my staff.

Bost
There would undoubtedly be some changes in personnel. Upon election, I would evaluate each present department employee.

It would be a loss to the community to lose dedicated and skilled deputies who would share in my set standards and goals of running the most efficient Sheriff's Department Pickaway

County has ever had.

In the area of policy changes, I feel as Sheriff my main concern would be to the persons who elected me to the office. My staff and I would be available 24 hours a day no matter what the need might be. Never get to the point of feeling superior over another human being.

Will you be able to work with other elected officials in the County?

Radcliff
I have always been able to work closely with all elected officials. I am a member of the Pickaway County Elected Officials Association, and have always participated in their meetings. My working relationship with the Courts, of which I am an officer, will continue in the same professional manner as in the past. I will continue to work closely with the County Commissioners to secure funds for my department, providing them with the necessary budget information to justify the needed funds to operate the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department. I have always been able to work with the Commissioners, regardless of party affiliations and I refer you to my record as an example of my cooperation.

Bost
There is no doubt in my mind that I would be able to work with the other elected officials of the county.

There would be instances where there would probably be a wide range of opinions on a subject. This is good as I feel an individual should stand up for what they believe.

I pride myself in my past years as a law enforcement officer that I was always able to maintain an open and trusting friendship with the elected officials of the county. Having six brothers and one sister I have grown to respect another persons opinion.

What do you feel is the single most important phase of law enforcement?

Radcliff
Giving service to the citizens of Pickaway County in the most professional and efficient manner possible. Seeing that all persons dealt with are treated equally, and keeping in mind that no man is above the law and no man is below the law, nor do we ask any man's permission when we require him to obey the law. I will continue to enforce the law equally and fairly for everyone's protection.

Bost

I feel treating everyone equal regardless of their financial status, race, color or creed is of utmost importance. Promoting the safety of the people of Pickaway County is, I feel, the most important phase of law enforcement. For the protection of life alone is everything; without life-what is law?

Mr. Bost has been critical of your departmental policy on the investigation of accidents and the amount of taxpayer dollars spent driving to the scene of accidents. Would you comment?

Radcliff
The policy and procedure of the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department concerning the investigation of accidents is that we shall continue to answer all calls for service, regardless of their nature, including accidents. The issue of the Highway Patrol has been brought out and questions brought up about the communication between the Sheriff's Department and the Highway Patrol. The cooperation between all police agencies in Pickaway County has also been discussed. I have always cooperated with the Highway Patrol and many times my Department has been called by the Highway Patrol to assist them, which we are always willing to do and which we have always done. I have received commendations from former Colonel Anson B. Cook, former Colonel Robert M. Chiaramonte and former Colonel Blackstone and from present Colonel Adam G. Reiss of the Highway Patrol concerning the professionalism that the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department has shown. It is a known fact that the present strength of the Highway Patrol in this State is One Hundred and Forty men short of what it is authorized. The strength of the local post is of the same approximate number as any other post adjoining Franklin County.

Statements have been made that because of the Sheriff's Department's involvement in accident investigation in Pickaway County the local Highway Patrol Post has lost manpower. To set the record straight, the only time the local post had more manpower was when there were riots occurring at Ohio State University and at the Ohio State Penitentiary. At those times the local Post shared in additional men, as did every other Post surrounding Franklin County. Captain Huffman, District No. 6 Commander, a ranking member of the Ohio Highway Patrol shared these views with me concerning the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department's involvement in accident investigation when he stated "Sheriff, we will do everything we can to do what we were called upon to do within the realm of our jurisdiction, however we must face it, without your involvement in accident investigation, the citizens of your county would be the ones suffering, as we do not have the manpower to provide additional units to this post. We are at this time one hundred forty men short within the state."

As the Chief law enforcement officer of Pickaway County, I respect the needs for service, and will continue to respect them by answering any and all calls for service, regardless of the nature. I shall continue to work closely with the Highway Patrol, the City Police Department, and all Village Police agencies, as I have in the past.

Concerning the tax dollars spent, I will always be providing patrol of the entire County, therefore the monies spent for responding to accident scenes may be very little, as it is a known fact that within minutes we have had units at the scene of any type situation, taking into consideration situations of emergencies which require immediate attention.

It has been charged that the Sheriff's Department patrol cars spend too much time on Federal and State Highways. I would like to state that there are many inhabited homes, as well as business establishments, on Federal and State Highways in the County which require our policing services. It is necessary for our patrol cars to use the main Federal and State Highways as access roads to various different points within the County. We are the only policing agency who can give the home owners and business establishments the full police protection they deserve and require, as there is no other agency with the policing authority to service them. The Ohio Highway Patrol has no authority off the roadway, unless the property concerned is owned by the State of Ohio.

The investigation of traffic accidents is very necessary, as when the Citizens of our Community call us for service, we must respond. There would be no logical reason to take the time to see if some other agency could do our work for us. Yes, we need cooperation. We have received it and have given it, and I speak directly of the Ohio Highway Patrol, a policing agency limited to traffic. Both agencies monitor each other and we know what the Highway Patrol is doing, as they know what the Sheriff's Department is doing. I demand a professional Sheriff's Department for the citizens of Pickaway County, just the same as the State demands a professional Ohio Highway Patrol. The general public makes calls for service, and the agency receiving the call must respond and do the job they were sworn to do.

It has been charged there are too many Sheriff's cars on Route 23. Please bear in mind that US Route 23 is a main artery to Chillicothe Correctional Institute, as well as to the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility at Lucasville, Ohio. All Sheriff's cruisers in Ohio are marked in the same manner so I am sure that not always when a Sheriff's car is seen it is a Pickaway County Sheriff's Patrol car. I must further respond that the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department has a contract for police service with the Circleville Township Trustees. US Route 23 runs through this area and, to work for the safety of the residents and businesses of this community it is imperative that our patrol cars follow the instructions of the Trustees in checking on hazardous conditions which exist near the shopping area South of Circleville, the industrial plants, and the heavily populated areas on this route.

You have criticized Sheriff Radcliff for the method his department uses to investigate traffic accidents. Would you please elaborate and explain the sources of your information?

Bost

First, I would like to say I have not criticized the sheriff for the method his department uses to investigate traffic accidents. It is common knowledge the deputies are quite proficient in their

First-Night Caution Is Not Game-Playing

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with your answer to the 47-year-old woman, signed PUSHOVER, who described her date as the kind of man she'd like to marry, even though she went to bed with him on their first date. She regretted having yielded so easily, thinking that now she may not be "marriage material."

You said a man may want a pushover for a date, but not a wife. That's upholding a double standard!

I would hope that the man would appreciate her as a sensitive, affectionate woman ready to act on her own basic needs. I would hope, also, that she would have a little more pride than she seems to in her honest desire for fulfillment and closeness. If she did, she might be asking herself whether a man who did not appreciate this in her would be the kind of man SHE wants to marry.

If I were testing for marriage material, I'd score affection, honesty and openness a lot higher than game-playing and holding out.

ALSO 47

DEAR 47: What I call caution, modesty and restraint on a first date you see as "game-playing and holding out." I prefer the former, and I think investigations. However, I do criticize the sheriffs lack of communications with other law agencies.

Always respond to an accident call. But, in the case of an injury accident, if you have any knowledge of another agency officer in the area closer than your cruiser, then I feel you should negotiate and solicit their help. The foremost plan should be getting help to the injured party or parties whether it be a member of your department or another agency.

The 6½ years experience being a deputy under the present sheriff gave me my source of information. I have been the road deputy and the deputy dispatcher trying to guide a cruiser to the accident scene. Always keeping one ear peeled to the monitor for any indication that another agency was also responding. I have received and transmitted numerous messages to "step it up, you have company." This is wrong and very foolish. My concern for such procedures is one reason that prompted me to run for the office of Sheriff.

DEAR ABBY: There is a simple, foolproof way to pay your restaurant check when you are consistently ignored by the management and waiter after you are long finished with eating and would like to leave. I first used this method at the Ft. Riley Officers' Club, but it works in almost any kind of establishment from Howard Johnson's to the Waldorf.

You simply draw a reasonable facsimile of your restaurant check on the tablecloth or placemat. If you know what you owe, fill it in. If you don't, write in what you were served, sign your name, print your name and address and not e how long you waited.

If the management has the guts to send you a bill instead of an apology, you can then pay it.

W.T. RABE

(P.S. The cavalry officer running the Ft. Riley Club requested that I pay $2 for the tablecloth, which I did. I think I insisted that I owned the tablecloth and asked him to cut out the check, which I framed. He finally thought it was funny, too, and pinned the tablecloth with the hole in it to the wall of his pantry for his help to see.)

DEAR W.T.: That might have worked at the Ft. Riley Officers' Club back in the days when a tablecloth was $2, but I don't recommend that stunt today at the Waldorf or any other post eatery.

DEAR ABBY: I recently attended the wedding of a dear friend. It was the second marriage for both of them.

The bridegroom's married daughter attended the wedding dressed completely in black. She wore no jewelry whatsoever and all during the ceremony, she wept so uncontrollably she had to be comforted by relatives.

What would you make of such dress and behavior?

WEDDING OR FUNERAL?

DEAR WEDDING OR: Were I rating her joy on that occasion, on a scale of one to 10, I'd give her a zero.

Sophomores will order their rings this Wednesday. According to Mrs. Paula Woodward, the class advisor, the class officers have done a good job. Jenny Yocum, ring chairman, has set up the display of the three class rings. The sophomores will vote Monday to choose which of these rings will be the class ring for the Class of '79.

'Mistake Free' Is Order Of Football Game

By DEBI GENTZEL
The Circleville Tigers will clash with the Fighting Irish at Akron tomorrow. Coach Larry Cook feels that the astro turf will present no problem for the Tigers in the 40,000 seat stadium. CHS' first encounter with the Akron St. Vincent-St. Marys is due to Unioto's drop from the South Central Ohio League. Cook is looking for a good game since Akron's team is known state-wide.

Akron's tough defensive players include linebacker T. D'Andrea, safetyback Cistone, and defensive end M. D'Andrea. Tight end Jim Houston, on the offensive line, is the son of the former Cleveland Browns linebacker, Jim Houston. Other tough offensive gridders will be quarterback J. Wacsh, fullback M. Johnson, and split end J. Bailey.

Akron stands with five wins and two losses and is rated eighth in class AA in the state.

Coach Cook stated, "If Akron is not better, it is certainly equal to Miami Trace. St. Vincent-St. Mary's plays predominantly a AAA schedule. We are one of the two AA schools that they'll play."

"We'll have to play very well against them in order to have a chance of winning. We must play mistake-free football," concluded Coach Cook.

Golf Team Finishes Good Season

By JOEL BAKER
The CHS golf team finished a winning season with an eighth place finish at the Central District Oct. 15. Their season record was 14 and 11. They finished second in the South Central Ohio League season and also second in the league playoff. In the East Sectional of the Central District at Groveport Oct. 8 they finished a fine second place.

The team was led by junior Mike McKelvey, who had a 41.1 stroke per round average in all games played. He was backed up by Dave Wylie, who fired 42.5 strokes per round; Scott Sanders, with a 44 average; Eric Berger with a 44.3 stroke average; and Mike Hamilton with a 44.7 stroke average.

TRIP TO OSU — Kathy Fischer, Randy Wolfe and Paula Dunham attended a music clinic at Ohio State. The highlight was sight-reading music.

Choir Members Attend Choral Reading Clinic

By MONA SHIRES
Three CHS choir members; Randy Wolfe, Paula Dunham, and Kathy Fischer and their choir teacher Miss Debbie Fannin attended the Ohio State University Choral Reading Clinic on Oct. 16. The clinic was sponsored by Stanton's Music Store.

The students participated in a choir called the Buckeye All-Star Choir. They also sight-read through Stanton's music sheets for the music teachers that were there. Singing groups from OSU also performed for them.

Miss Fannin said "the whole choir didn't attend because it was mainly all sight-reading." She said she thought it would be best to take students who were going to further their education in music, but she wants to try and take the whole choir next year.

Randy's reaction to the clinic was, "I really enjoyed it as I got a chance to sight read a lot of music, and I also got to meet a lot of different people and got to see several members of the All-Ohio

Youth Choir that I worked with this summer."

Kathy commented, "It was a very worthwhile experience. There was enough range of difficulty in the pieces they picked for us to sing to make it interesting and challenging. We got some new ideas and music. I only wish the rest of the choir had been able to go."

Paula stated, "It was a lot of fun and a real learning experience. I'd like to do it again next year."

Chip Taylor Tries Nashville Sound

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — He started writing country music in that mother city of country music: Yonkers, a city just north of New York.

Now Chip Taylor, from that unlikely beginning in city where they spell "opry" with an "era," wants to be a star performer playing his own music.

Taylor says he hopes his band, "Ghost Train," and his new album, "Somebody Shoot Out the Jukebox," will do just that.

Taylor, 36, co-produced an early album of rock star James Taylor, no relation, and has written the smash hits "Wild Thing," "Angel of the Morning" and "I Can't Let Go" among others.

He has even dabbled in acting, playing roles in two movies. He is the younger brother of actor Jon Voight, star of "Midnight Cowboy."

But Taylor, whose real name is Voight, says country music is his first love.

Taylor heard country music for the first time at age 9 back in Yonkers. He says it "seemed much more sincere. It was sad, but there was something I loved about its sadness."

He adopted the name Chip Taylor — because he was told Voight was rough to pronounce — and began recording with his high school group.

His early career was mostly spent in songwriting and producing, two talents which served him well. With a partner, Al Gorgoni, Taylor produced the album "James Taylor and the Flying Machine," an early milestone in the latter's career.

Chip Taylor also combined with Gorgoni to cut a record, "Just Us," and produced a Neil Diamond single, "Brooklyn Roads."

Taylor has seen several of his songs, notably "Wild Thing," "Angel of the Morning" and "I Can't Let Go," turn into major hits for other performers.

But Taylor said he had trouble getting up the courage to perform his songs himself.

"I was too shy, I was too afraid of the camera, too afraid of interviews and things like that. I just hid behind my writing and my production."

But sitting on the sidelines wasn't enough, so in 1970, Taylor says, he decided to start performing, something he's wanted to do since childhood.

The years since have meant a search for a musical identity and no sudden surge to fame as a performer. Taylor lists among the highlights of his performing career so far: release in 1973 of his own favorite album, "Chip Taylor's Last Chance," and a successful tour of Holland late last year.

Not exactly John Denver-style highs, but then maybe this new album. ...

Burning Desire

MIAMI (AP) — Guy De Stefano caters to people who have a burning desire to get rid of something. For a fee, he will see that confidential matters are burned to a crisp.

De Stefano, 61, claims to be the only such destroyer in the sprawling Miami-Dade County area.

He started his firm several years ago after getting out of the scrap-paper business.

He said he has destroyed everything from attorneys' records and designs for clothes and buildings to medical formulae and packages of unspecified materials. Usually he takes the material to a county incinerator and watches as it's burned.

Burning is the only way to make sure that anything, especially paper, is destroyed, De Stefano said.

"Shredders only shred to a quarter of an inch, and papers could be put back together," he explained. "The only true way is to burn it and mix it with thousands of other things."

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warmer weather is in store for Ohio this weekend, but skies will be cloudy for most of the period with a chance of rain.

Warm air to the west will move into the area as a cool high pressure system that has dominated this week's weather moves southeast. This along with sunny skies will push afternoon temperatures into the 50s—about 10 degrees warmer than Thursday's high readings.

Warm weather will continue into the weekend, but a developing storm area over the lower Mississippi Valley is likely to make it somewhat cloudy. Rain is possible over the state by Saturday night and Sunday.

Minister Reported Seeking Arson Deal

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — The Rev. David Bubar, convicted of conspiracy in the 1975 fire bombing of a sponge rubber plant in nearby Shelton, is trying to make a deal with state authorities, the Ansonia Evening Sentinel reported in a copyrighted story Wednesday.

The Sentinel said Bubar has been talking to FBI agents and state officials since last Tuesday concerning his role in destruction of Plant 4 of Sponge Rubber Products.

The newspaper quoted a reliable source as saying Bubar would seek a deal with the state and a possible reduction in his 20-year prison term imposed last March by U.S. District Judge Jon O. Newman.

Bubar was transferred last week from a federal penitentiary in Atlanta, Ga., to a state correction center on Whalley Avenue and has been meeting daily with FBI agents, state detectives and other officials.

Accompanying him has been his new attorney, L.G. Hawkins of Tulsa, Okla., hired through funds raised by Bubar followers in Memphis, Tenn.

If Bubar agrees to plead guilty and testify at pending state trials, he could be offered a state sentence no longer than and concurrent to his federal sentence.

During his four-month-long federal trial, the Methodist minister and self-proclaimed psychic cited "religious reasons" for his refusal to testify in his own defense.

Bubar, a friend and spiritual adviser of the head of Sponge Rubber, was convicted Jan. 19 of four federal conspiracy counts for his role in the $12 million fire bombing that eventually cost about 850 Sponge Rubber workers their jobs.

He was sentenced March 22 to begin serving his 20-year term and will not be eligible for parole consideration until the fall of 1982. Newman revoked bail for Bubar pending appeal of his conviction. No bail was set for six other defendants also convicted of being part of the arson plot.

Charles D. Moeller, president of Ohio Decorative Products of Spencerville, Ohio, parent firm of Sponge Rubber, was acquitted of charges he hired Bubar to burn down Plant 4 for an insurance payoff. But Protection Mutual of Park Ridge, Ill., insurer for Sponge Rubber, has refused to pay any insurance money to Moeller for fire and business losses.

Moeller's attorney, Theodore Koskoff of Westport, has begun court proceedings to try to collect for the losses. The case is expected to take years to settle.

Your Horoscope

By FRANCIS DRAKE

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20): An unexpected invitation to an evening get-together holds some interesting surprises. Just what you need!

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21): Don't slacken your efforts because others are in a frivolous mood. Consider your own interests—especially now when influences stimulate new ideas for improving your status.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21): A day when you can relax and rest on your laurels—with warm gratification. Hours after noon splendor for social interests.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23): You may have been dwelling too long and too seriously on job matters. Seek out your most amusing companions and indulge in a bit of fun for a change.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23): Place obligations before desires, but do make time for recreation and relaxation. Understanding and cooperation with others will be your key to happy satisfaction.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23): A favorable day for most activities. Just two admonitions: Don't scatter energies recklessly and DO avoid extravagance.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23): Misunderstandings likely in unexpected areas. Counteract with your innate poise, tact and a sincere desire to clear the air.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22): Mixed influences. You may encounter some frustrating situations during the a.m., but the tide will turn in your favor later in the day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21): Caution and conservatism stressed. Above all, avoid persons who are impulsively taking risks.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20): As with many others, some unusual situations indicated. In all dealings, be direct. Avoid devious tactics or approach, and give others the benefit of any doubt.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): If you take minor annoyances in stride, as Aquarians usually do, you should enjoy your day. Chosen goals are nearer. Increased favors indicated.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20): Your personal ambitions may be dependent on some trends indicated in the day's news. Adjustments are bound to follow.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely versatile and could make a success in any one of many fields. You have an excellent mind and an outgoing personality; could, if you make the best use of your potentials, become a leader in any line you choose. In literature, your work would have a highly dramatic quality; in medicine, you could cure not only the body but the mind; in the legal field, your sense of the dramatic would make you an outstanding trail lawyer. You have a definite affinity for science; also outstanding financial acumen. Statesmanship and agriculture are other fine outlets for your talents. Views On Tiger Television

LOS ANGELES (AP) — This Sunday, NBC is airing a three-hour night of flicks called "Life Goes to the Movies," offering clips of about 200 films made over a 36-year span for viewer inspection.

It represents more than a year's work, consideration of some 800 films, and long, arduous haggling with owners of the chosen films for rights to air excerpts of the movies, says coproducer Mel Stuart.

The theme of the opus is not simply that these films were what folks watched way back when, he adds, but rather "how they were a reflection of the manners, the mores and the political thrust of the American people when they were made ..."

"The easiest way to explain it is that there's a helluva long way from Andy Hardy to 'The Graduate,'" he said. "The Graduate wouldn't have been possible in the 1930s. There would have been riots in the streets."

The show is based on and has the same title as the 1975 book about Life magazine's often starry-eyed coverage of moviedom from 1936, when the magazine began, to 1972, when it ceased weekly publication.

The book — and the show's script — were written by Richard Schickel, a former Life movie critic who several seasons ago produced the much-praised public TV series, "Then Men Who Made the Movies."

Stuart, who coproduced "Life Goes to the Movies" with him and directed it, said the show covers four basic eras of film — the late 1930s, World War II and the postwar years, the 1950s through 1963 and from 1964 through 1972.

He said he'll try to show through those eras changing onscreen attitudes toward such things as romance and war, plus looks at the rash of Biblical epics in the 1950s and what caused them, and a phenomena of that decade — movies made specifically for the teen-age market.

Stuart, a thin, wiry veteran of movies and television who won an Emmy in 1969 for his "Making of the President" TV documentary about the 1968 elections, doesn't think three hours of Sunday night movie watching will prove too much for the television viewer.

The show, to be hosted by Henry Fonda, Shirley MacLane and Liza Minnelli, isn't coming cheaply, Stuart says it's "probably the most expensive documentary ever made."

Homecoming
WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — Eight months after he was removed to another zoo because his mate at the Worcester Science Center was pregnant, Ursa Major came home.

Major, a giant polar bear was reunited with his mate, Ursa Minor, to the cheers of some 200 youngsters who were on hand to witness the homecoming.

It was feared that the long-separated bears would fight when reunited, but they nuzzled each other and "feigned fighting," said Dean Clark, a spokesman for the center. "It was obvious they recognized each other. It was really an emotional experience."

The cubs would have been aborted by the mother had the male remained, center officials explained. Of two cubs born, one was killed by its mother and the other died of an unknown ailment.

Hunch Brings Victory Pro Basketball

By The Associated Press

When your team is losing, anything goes — even hunches.

Coach Red Kelly of the Toronto Maple Leafs played one Thursday night, and as a result, snapped his club's long winless streak and came up with a hot-gloved goalie.

Hoping to stop a seven-game non-winning string, Kelly inserted 22-year-old Mike Palmateer into the game and the broad-shouldered goalie kicked out 24 shots, leading Toronto to a 3-1 National Hockey League victory over the Detroit Red Wings.

Kelly admitted that he got the idea of starting Palmateer after watching the youngster stop 40 shots while beating the Red Wings in a preseason game.

Palmateer was nervous on the eve of his NHL debut.

Red Cross Board Welcomes New Members

Mel Ehrlich, chapter chairman, presided at the Wednesday evening meeting of the Board of Directors, American Red Cross. Mrs. Edward Windon of Clarks Lakes and Gary Friedt, psychologist in the County School system were welcomed as new members of the board.

Ehrlich outlined plans for the Blood Program in 1977 and stressed the need for assistance from all community groups in order to meet the goal of 1800 units for the year.

Mrs. Roliff Wolford expressed the appreciation of the chapter for the assistance received from nurses in the county and stated that all eligible nurses are being contacted and given the opportunity to become enrolled Red Cross Nurses. Since this has been neglected for so long, there are now 33 nurses eligible, who are not already enrolled. Nurses and other volunteers have assisted with the flu immunization and will help with the remaining clinics.

Mrs. Walter Garner presented the background and present status of the volunteer services and explained that many people are giving thousands of hours at service to their community through Red Cross each year. She made a plea for leadership assistance in all areas of concern. Both the adult and youth programs are without chairmen at the present time.

Mrs. Fred Tammany and Mrs. Wolford attended a meeting of Executives of the Columbus Division on Wednesday, and received updated information in matters of organization on the National and Division level. Due to a cutback in personnel at those levels, the need for stronger leadership in the local chapters becomes necessary. One of the programs receiving attention is the Safety Programs with much stress on community organized training in First Aid and Cardio-Pulmonary Resuscitation. The need for mannequins and other equipment to be used in the CPR program is a matter of concern. Efforts are being made to interest foundations and organizations in assisting with the purchase of equipment.

The next meeting will be a combined November-December meeting (due to holiday conflicts) to be held on December 8.

NEW SALES PERSON — Madrid Real Estate has announced the addition of Shelia Brown, 200 W. Main St., Ashville, to the real estate staff. Mrs. Brown recently completed real estate courses at Bliss College and Union Professional School in Columbus and has passed the real estate associate state test.

Probe Sale Of Guns, Ammo To South Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department is investigating allegedly illegal shipments of handguns and rifles from two major U.S. arms manufacturers to sporting goods dealers in South Africa.

Chief Assistant U.S. Atty. H. James Pickerstein in New Haven, Conn., confirmed the investigation of Colt Industries Inc. of Hartford and Olin Corp., the parent firm of Winchester-Western International, of Stamford, Conn.

Pickerstein declined to furnish any details of the grand jury investigation.

Both companies said employees have been fired because of the sales and that the transactions had been reported to the government. The firms deny that senior executives knew of the shipments in advance.

The Olin firm said the sales to South Africa averaged more than $300,000 a year from 1972 through 1975.

A spokesman for the State Department's Office of Munitions Control said the agency started the investigation last year when it noticed unusually large shipments of sporting guns to the Canary Islands. Those islands off the northwest coast of Africa were one of the intermediary points for shipment to South Africa.

"We got suspicious, because there were too damned many elephant guns going to the Canary Islands," said one State Department source. "Being alert gentlemen, we realized that you don't shoot canaries with elephant guns."

The munitions office said it alerted U.S. customs officials about the suspicious shipments, and that the information was passed on to the Justice Department. A State Department official said the presumption was that the guns were being sold to individual white South Africans.

Man Charged In Trimble Death

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — A 20-year-old New Philadelphia man was charged with murder Thursday in the death of a rural Athens County marshal who was killed attempting to set up a roadblock.

Robert E. Shaw Jr. was one of five suspects arrested in connection with the death on Wednesday of Ted Holcomb, 29, marshal of Trimble.

Authorities said Holcomb was positioning his car on Ohio 13 near Trimble when a speeding car slammed into his.

Misdemeanor charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest were pending against two other men. Two others were being held in the Glouster jail.

Court, failure to maintain assured clear distance, $27 fine and costs.

Richard H. Woltz, 130 E. High St., failure to provide support for minor child, $12 costs, 30 days Pickaway County Jail, suspended, one year probation.

Susan Starr, 6299 Dawnlight Circle, Orient, failure to surrender drivers license, case dismissed, prosecution failed to appear.

John Wills, 420 Watt St., littering, $37.50 fine and costs.

James R. Moorehead, 457 N. Court St., littering, $37.35 fine and costs.

Contested Cases
Clair E. Wright, 24, Circleville operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, charge amended to reckless operation, $112 fine and costs; speed 74 miles per hour in 55 zone, $20 fine.

Faye E. Cockrell, Route 1, Mt. Sterling, failure to surrender drivers license, not guilty.

George A. Hastings, 20, Route 2, Williamsport, operating a motor vehicle under the influence of alcohol, charge amended to reckless operation, $112 fine and costs; disorderly conduct, case dismissed for good cause shown.

Auditor Gives Gas Taxes

October gasoline tax checks totaling $9,859,157 were distributed today by State Auditor Thomas E. Ferguson's office to Ohio counties, townships, cities and villages.

Of the amount, each of Ohio's 1,320 townships received $1,200 while each of the counties received $35,000 apiece.

Ashtabula, with the most townships, received $32,000 for distribution to them while Cuyahoga County, with the least, received $4,800 for the townships.

The remaining $5,195,157 went to 933 cities and villages, based upon $1 per motor vehicle registered within their borders, as set forth in the latest registration compilation.

Ferguson said gasoline excise tax receipts can be used only for street and roadway purposes.

Distribution to Municipalities in Pickaway County included $1,358 to the Ashville Village treasurer, $174 to the Commercial Point treasurer, $27 to the Darbyville treasurer, $48 to the Harrisburg Village treasurer, $531 New Holland Village treasurer, $590 to the Orient village treasurer, $476 to the South Bloomfield village treasurer, and $429 to the Williamsport village treasurer.

Thieves Remove Man's Tires

Circleville Police investigated a report of grand theft last night.

According to the report, Richard A. Schafer, of Rickenbacker Air Force Base, told police that he parked his car at 402 N. Scioto St. at 9 p.m. When he returned at 10:10 p.m., he discovered that thieves had removed all four tires and wheels and left the car on the ground.

Utilities Board Makes Appointments

The Circleville Board of Public Utilities met in regular session Thursday night in the Water Department offices on W. Franklin St.

Board members gave approval to the following vouchers: $2855.59 for attorney's fees in the Hazen and Sawyer court case; $780 for attorney's fees for legal notes concerning the elevated water storage tank; $21,425.60 as a payment on the elevated storage tank; and $1799 for carpet and furnishings for the water department offices.

The Board also approved the permanent appointment of the following people: Phil Imler, in the water maintenance department; Bill Eitel, as the water plant operator; and Bill Seum, as a meter reader.

In project reports, Public Utilities Director Chuck Taylor reported the general contract with the new sewage treatment plant is 80 per cent complete. The sludge conditioning contract with Zimpro is 44 per cent complete, and the heating and ventilation contract with J. A. Guy is 85 per cent complete. The American Electrical contract is 75 per cent complete. The new elevated storage tank is 95 per cent complete, with the only remaining item before completion being the proper shading of the paint on the tank. Contract 1S, the Hargus Creek interceptor sewer, should be started within the week, pending an okay to be given by the EPA in Chicago, Illinois. Contract number 2, which concerns the connection of the old water plant with the new, is 60 per cent complete.

In the Hazen and Sawyer federal court case, no decision has been reached on a change of venue. The case involves disputed engineering fees charged to the city of Circleville by the Hazen and Sawyer engineering firm. The case is currently being heard in federal court in New York, and city officials are seeking a change of venue to federal court in Columbus.

With the agenda completed, the meeting was adjourned at 8:15 p.m.

License Plate Revenues Sent To Pickaway County

COLUMBUS — Governor James A. Rhodes today announced that warrants totalling $6,803.51 have been mailed to the Pickaway County Auditor's Office, for distribution among local taxing districts within the county.

Governor Rhodes said the current payment is a fourth installment of 1976 license plate revenues, and brings the total amount returned to Pickaway County this year to $828,873.95.

He explained that all license plate fees collected by the Bureau of Motor Vehicles are deposited in the State Treasury, and then re-distributed among county and local governments on a dollars-per-vehicle basis to help pay for local road repairs and bridge maintenance.

Until this year, Rhodes noted, license plate fees were returned to local governments on a quarterly basis. Since this distribution method was causing cash-flow problems at the local level, Rhodes said he asked BMV Registrar Curtis Andrews to change to the current monthly payout system; which has greatly speeded the return of badly-needed revenues to county engineers and city officials.

Big Quake Reported In Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A major earthquake hit the Indonesian province of Irian today for the second time within five months, missionaries in the provincial capital reported.

There was no immediate word on the extent of the damage or whether there were any casualties.

It was the 11th major earthquake reported in the world this year.

Irian is the thickly jungled, mountainous western half of the island of New Guinea. Most of the people are primitive tribespeople.

An official of the Mission Aviation Fellowship said he received a telephone message that the quake was felt in Jayapura, the provincial capital, about 11 a.m. (11 p.m. EDT Thursday).

The message said the center of the quake was believed to have been in the remote jungle area where a major quake last June was reported to have killed at least 1,000 people and caused heavy damage.

U.S. government seismographs in Golden, Colo., recorded both the quake in June and the one today at 7.1 on the Richter Scale of quake strength. The tremor today registered 7.0 at the Uppsala (Sweden) University Seismological Institute and 6.8 at the Hong Kong Royal Observatory.

The Richter Scale is a measurement of ground motion as recorded on a seismograph. Each increase of one whole number means a tenfold increase in the strength of the quake. A 7.0 quake is considered capable of serious, widespread damage.

Power Commission Backs Atom Plant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Power Siting Commission staff has recommended approval of construction of two more nuclear generators at the Davis-Besse site in Ottawa County.

But the recommendation was conditional upon Toledo Edison Co. expanding its spent fuel storage facilities before beginning operation.

Plans submitted by Toledo Edison show space to store 260 fuel assemblies, but the siting commission staff said that is not enough because the utility's plans depend on having fuel reprocessing plants available.

Two of the three reprocessing plants in various stages of development will not be ready before 1982 and one probably will not operate at all, the staff said.

Police Check Burglary

Circleville Police investigated a burglary and theft report at the V.F.W. Post 3331 Thursday.

According to the report, Barbara Ramey told police that when she reported to work at 9 a.m. Thursday she discovered that a 2 by 3 inch window pane had been broken out of the south door.

Once inside, the thieves removed cash and approximately 20 cartons of cigarettes from the cigarette machine. Whiskey was also taken from the bar area.
